The Scene of Tragedy

A TWO-ALARM fire swept through this home at 165 Glenwood Drive, Daly City, early Friday morning, killing a 27-year-old father. The victim, Robert C. Hall, was found on the floor of a rear bedroom where he had fled, apparently in an effort to escape the flames, firemen said. The fire completely charred a new auto in the garage of the home, seen here after it was rolled out of the building. Investigators said careless smoking may have been the cause of the fire. (Post-Times Photo)

Firefighters Appeal D.C. Suspensions

Three Daly City firemen have appealed the validity and severity of a 15-day suspension during the summer for refusing to take classes in fire prevention and building construction at the College of San Mateo.

A hearing on the appeal was scheduled to take place last night at a special meeting of the Daly City Personnel Board.

The firemen, Ronald Angelot, John P. Harris Jr., and Edward P. O'Haire Jr., had been ordered to take the course at the college along with 17 other Daly City firemen last spring.

When course grades were sent to city officials, however, the names of the three firemen were missing. They had not attended any of the classes.

The fire prevention course is part of the in-service training of the fire department, City Manager Edward Frank explained. Firemen attend the classes and then request and receive compensatory time off from work.

Frank said the three firemen had not requested any time off. They had, however, disobeyed a direct order to attend the (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Young Father Dies in Fire

A 27-year-old Daly City father whose wife was momentarily expecting their third child, died in a roaring two-alarm fire in the family's split-level Westlake home early Friday morning.

Firemen said the tragedy may have been caused by smoking in bed.

The victim was Robert C. Hall, 165 Glenwood Drive, an accountant for the California Public Utilities Company, a subsidiary of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

His wife, Sharon, and their two children, Lauren, 4, and Rhonda, 20 months, were staying at the time with Mrs. Hall's mother, Mrs. James Murphy of 15 Poncetta Street, Daly City.

Hall was found lying on the floor in a rear bedroom where he apparently had gone in an attempt to escape the flames. The coroner's office was investigating to determine cause of death.

The fire was reported by neighbors at 4:38 a.m. They heard an explosion and saw flames leaping from the frame house.

Officer John Kolbmann, on patrol in the Westlake Shopping Center nearby, said he heard an explosion and saw an orange flash of flame spiral into the air.

When he reached the scene moments later, the house was enveloped by flames shooting 50 feet into the sky.

He said he attempted to enter the building, but intense heat drove him back. He then alerted neighbors at 163 Glenwood to leave their home as a precaution. The flames, however, did not spread.

Asst. Fire Chief Herbert Ritzmann said three engine companies were used in fighting the fire, which was controlled within 20 minutes. The house is a block away from Daly City's central fire station on Lake Merced Boulevard.

Ritzmann said the neighbors (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Petitions in Recall Get County OK

The county district attorney's office has approved the form of a petition seeking the recall of the board of trustees of the Laguna Salada School District.

Supporters of the recall movement are expected to begin circulating petitions in Pacifica this week.

The movement is being sponsored by the HELP Committee (Help Eliminate Lax Planning). It stems from objections voiced by some parents to district bus policies.

However, Eugene Cowhig, chairman of the committee, stated this week that "we want (Please See Page 2, Column 8)

Police Arrest 'Car 54' Gang

Two alert South San Francisco officers have broken a teen-age burglary gang that had nearly panicked North County police departments by operating a stolen emergency band radio transmitter-receiver. The young thieves may be facing federal charges.

Officers James LaChance

and Thomas Dougherty cleared up more than a dozen thefts and burglaries when they arrested five 13 to 17-year-old youths and sent them to Hillcrest Juvenile Hall.

So far as police know, the youngsters only broadcast once, but they could have jammed emergency calls in South San Francisco, Broadmoor, and Pacifica at any time. How long the children listened in on official calls is not known.

The one illegal broadcast police say, occurred two weeks ago during the South San Francisco - El Camino High School football game. Disrupting several broadcasts by imitating official calls, the boys repeatedly asked:

"Car 54, where are you?"

So serious is the crime, of transmitting on an emergency frequency, the Federal Communication sent an investigator into the area to help track down the stolen radios.

Police say the boys had apparently specialized in stealing from apartment house garages, and in raiding city vehicles parked overnight. They had robbed the South San Francisco parks and public utilities departments, the city nursery, the South San Francisco Unified School (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

SCHOOL UNITY PLAN

Vote Reached In 45 Minutes

A plan to split the Jefferson Union High School District into two unified school districts was rejected, primarily on financial grounds, by the State Board of Education in San Diego Friday. The vote was unanimous and came after a 45-minute presentation.

J. Paul Bradley, chairman of the San Mateo County Committee on School District Reorganization, said the committee will try to squeeze through another plan before June 30 so that the North County will not lose an estimated $208,362 in state unification bonus funds.

A new proposal may be taken up at the county committee's meeting tomorrow, he said.

Mrs. Ruth Boudinot expressed disappointment at the state board's action, saying the board members had not really got around to considering the idea of local unification.

"They (the board members) were told the deviation in assessed valuation was too great and they didn't go any further," she said.

O. Wayne Douglas, chairman of the Jefferson Elementary School District, which had been urging a split, said he was pleased with the state board's reception to the presentation, but it appeared that a legal interpretation had prevented the adoption of the plan.

He said that as a result of the board's action, he hoped the county committee will restudy the North County with finance a paramount in consideration. Nevertheless, he said, all speed should be taken because he was convinced unification is the best way to run schools.

Elio Fontana, chairman of the Jefferson High School District, said the action of the state was expected because "the welfare of children in all four districts has to be considered. We have to share the wealth."

The state board listened to the proponents' 45-minute presentation in a model of decorum but then made its decision before even listening to the plan's opponents.

The board, acting on advice of its legal counsel, turned down the two-way Jefferson split on grounds that the assessed valuation per student gap between (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Fiery Start Marks First Zone Hearing

Two Developers, D.C. Citizen Air Views

By RON BATES

The first of a series of public hearings on a new Daly City zoning ordinance got off to a fiery start Monday night when two principal developers criticized key sections of the proposed law and one resident criticized the developers.

E. V. Schulhauser of Suburban Realty, the firm developing Serramonte, and Ricco Lagomarsino of William Lagomarsino Company asked for a re-evaluation of sections of the proposal concerning parking lot coverage, setbacks and high-rise apartments.

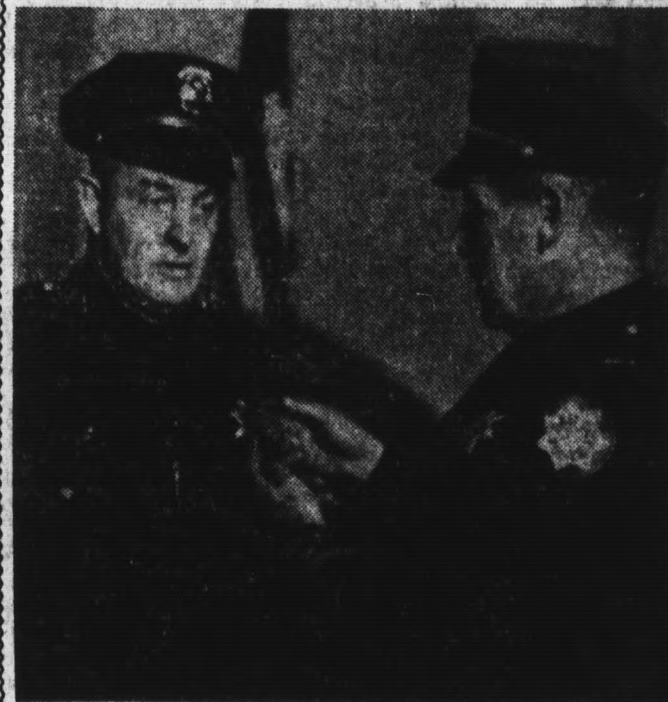

After their request, Charles Garry, 485 Wellington Avenue, said:

"I can well understand why the builders want to get as much as they can out of the ordinance. They will build their box houses and apartments and then leave." And he added:

"We expect from the city council courageous buildings, courageous landscaping and courageous parking laws to eliminate box houses in Daly City and prevent them from being built in the future."

He said the proposed ordinance is a great improvement over the present ordinance "but it can still be improved more."

Schulhauser took issue with four sections of the ordinance. He claimed "tandem parking," which is prohibited in the (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

D.C. Gets Asst. Chief of Police

Captain Roy Beecher, 49, a 21-year veteran with the Daly City Police Department, has been named assistant chief of police by City Manager Edward Frank.

The appointment followed action by the Daly City Personnel Board Thursday when it certified results of a promotion examination given Beecher for the post.

A native of Daly City, Beecher has been with the Daly City Police Department since August of 1943. He was named sergeant in 1947, inspector in 1952 and captain in 1957.

He is a graduate of Jefferson High School and several law enforcement schools.

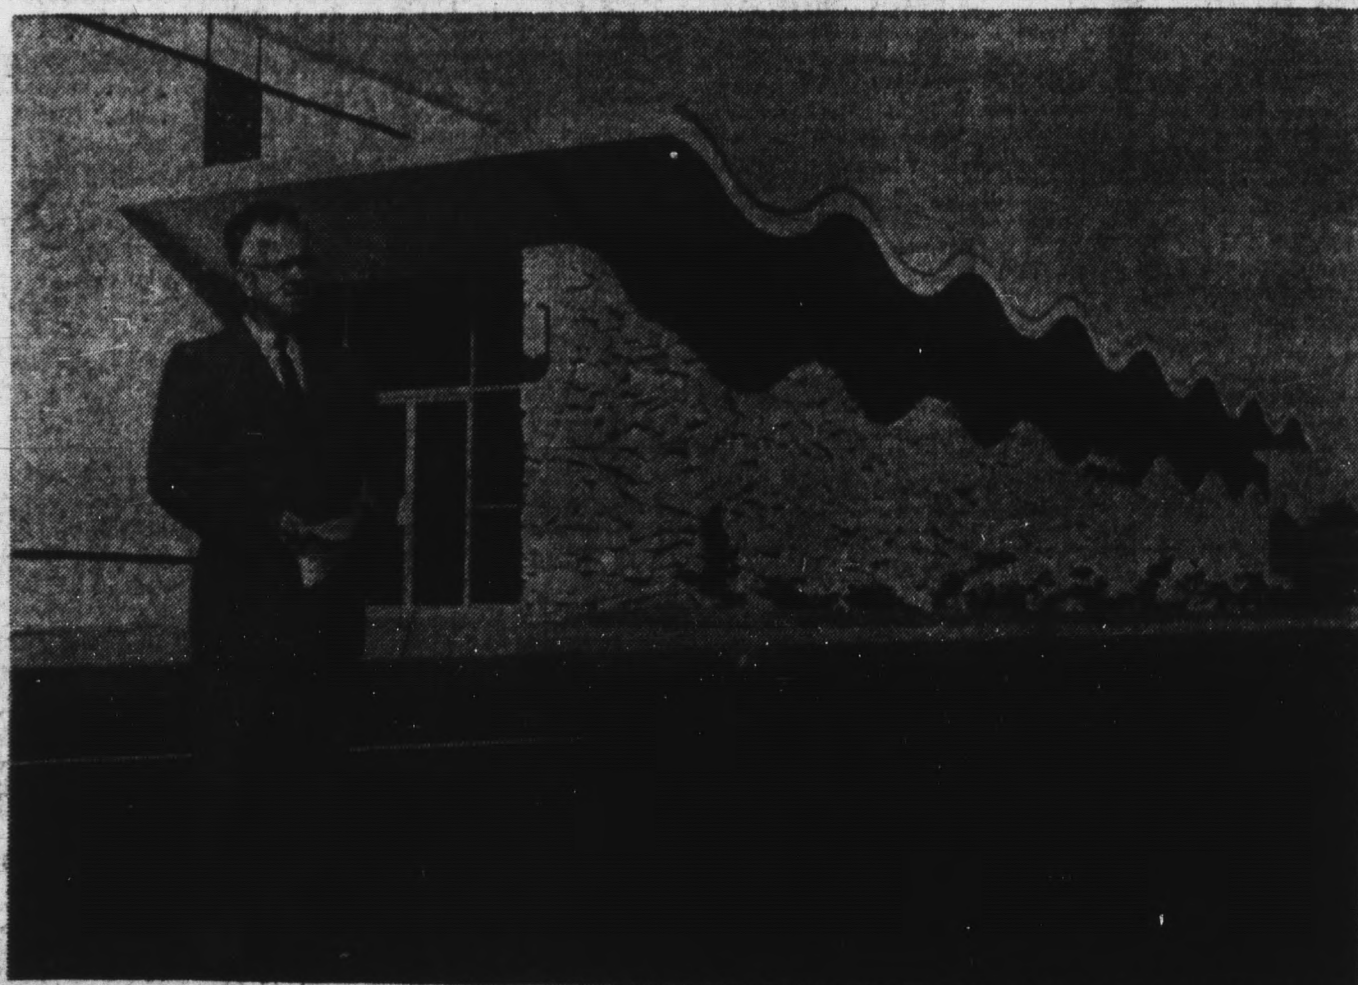

The assistant police chief position had been vacant since Roy McLaren resigned to take another position four years ago.

Since then, Beecher, the second ranking officer under Chief Roland Petrocchi, has assumed the duties of the position.

The personnel board also certified the results of tests for four open police sergeant jobs and four firemen positions.

The board set December 7, 8 and 9 as dates for oral examinations for maintenance man, street maintenance man, and garage serviceman jobs respectively.

Motorists have four days left in which to participate in Daly City's Vehicle Safety Check Week, now in high gear.

The free, voluntary program, which opened last week, will continue through Saturday at 14 Daly City service stations.

The project is being jointly sponsored by the City of Daly City and the Daly City Rotary Club.

The sponsors estimate that the drive may result in the checking of close to 5,000 cars. Motorists whose cars pass the voluntary 10-point inspection will be given a "Safety-Checked" windshield sticker to display (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Markovich Seeks S. M. Board Post

Peter Markovich, manager of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce and a resident of Daly City for the past 52 years, has announced he will seek appointment to the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors' seat made vacant by the death of Joe Verducci.

Verducci, former mayor of Daly City and supervisor-elect to the Fifth District seat on the county board, died November 6 of an apparent heart attack. Gov. Edmund Brown will appoint a successor.

Previously mentioned as strong contenders for the post are former Pacifica Mayor Jean Fasser, Daly City Councilman Francis Pacelli and Jefferson Elementary School District Trustee Thomas Noonan.

Markovich had been considered one of the leading candidates for the post last year when incumbent Alvin Hatch indicated he would not seek reelection. He withdrew from the race, however, in favor of the candidacy of Verducci.

owners to ascertain the wishes of residents.

David Kruse, 215 Gateway Drive, chairman of the association's new board of directors elected two weeks ago, said that of 125 questionnaires returned, 32 were in favor of the development, 92 against, and 1 undecided.

Kruse said that the planning commission will go before the city council December 2 and that representatives of the improvement association will be present to voice their opinions.

He said that the director will schedule open board meetings between now and December 2 to decide exactly what steps must be taken.

He added he did not want to criticize the commission because he feels commissioners conscientiously consider their decision to be in the best interests of the people of Pacifica.

"We disagree with this decision, however, and will try our best to ably present our objections," he said.

The split in the ranks of the association occurred when the newly elected board of directors decided not to uphold the previous board's unequivocal position in opposition to the apartments.

heard what he termed a "back draft" explosion. This occurs, he explained, when a smoldering fire suddenly gets a rush of air, usually through a window that has burst open from the heat.

He said the fire apparently started in a front bedroom. It spread to the garage below and demolished the Hall's new auto.

Hall was known to be a heavy smoker. Investigators said Mrs. Hall told them she had been talking to her husband by phone around 1 a.m. and that she thought he fell asleep.

Ritzmann estimated damage at $10,000 to the house and $8,000 to the contents and auto.

In addition to his wife and two children, the victim is survived by his mother, Mrs. Catherine Hall of San Francisco; his father, Robert Hall of Santa Clara; two brothers, James Hall, a San Bruno policeman, and Thomas Hall of San Francisco, and a sister, Sharon Hall, of San Francisco.

D.C. Opens New Main Post Office

Daly City's new main Post Office on Sullivan Avenue between Eighty-eighth and Eighty-ninth streets, in the construction stage for 14 months, opened its doors to the public Monday morning—just in time for the start of the Christmas mailing season.

The facility, which cost $250,000 to build, is owned by Robert and Jane Erving of San Jose who have leased it to the Post Office.

Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy said formal dedication ceremonies will be postponed until after the end of the busy holiday mailing rush.

The facility is the fourth link during the winter driving months.

Although checks are being held with the sanction of the Daly City police department, no citations will be issued for vehicles found defective, according to Mayor Michael De Bernardi.

"The check takes only about three minutes," said Dr. George Riba, president of the Rotary Club. "This is every driver's opportunity to check your car—check your driving—check accidents."

Joining the city-wide campaign to curb accidents, auto mechanics students at Westmoor High School are conducting their own three-day vehicle check on campus. It will continue through tomorrow.

Dr. Riba urged motorists to drive to any one of these stations for their free 10-point safety check:

Skyline Plaza Flying A, Southgate and Westmoor avenues; Westlake Flying A, Alemany and Lake Merced boulevards; Union 76 Service, 6889 Mission Street; Westlake Richfield Service, 151 Southgate; Day and Night Transmission Service, 7490 Mission; Inside Garage, 7338A Mission; and Pete's Chevron Service, 2089 Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Barbata's Automotive Service, 493 Eastmoor Avenue; Westlake Automotive Service, 6498 Mission; Ken's Flying A, Bayshore Boulevard and Geneva Avenue; Larry Zimmer Wilshire, 2700 Geneva; Broadmoor Richfield, 193 Eighty-seventh Street; Bill's Wilshire, 2428 Junipero Serra; and Fred's Westland Shell, 605 Skyline Drive.

in Daly City's growing chain of post office units.

Former headquarters for the system was at 31 Beplar Avenue. This building now will be known as the Vista Grande Station and will continue to provide full postal services.

The new main headquarters houses the mailing division (all incoming and outgoing mail are processed here), the executive division and regular postal services.

The mailing division had been situated in the Westlake branch at 201 Southgate Avenue. The fourth unit in the system is the Colma branch station at 7373 Mission Street.

Murphy said the Daly City Post Office still hopes to open a branch in the Bayshore area of the city. A proposal to this effect was made in January of this year.

Zone Hearing Gets Heated

new ordinance, should be permitted in the case of two-car families.

He said the lot coverage maximum was too low and apartment development governed by this section would be hard to finance.

"If we were down on the Marina in San Francisco where they get $400 rent, it would be okay," he said. "But in Daly City this is not a realistic approach."

Lagomarsino reiterated some of Schulhauser's remarks but was more emphatic in his request that the zoning law be held up until disputed points were resolved.

He claimed the "approach" to the zoning ordinance was wrong because some of it was based on the codes of such communities as Redwood City.

"Daly City would more properly be compared with San Francisco," he said.

A heated exchange erupted between Lagomarsino and Garry after Garry's remarks.

"I resent these comments of Mr. Garry," Lagomarsino said.

"He talks about builders like they're carpetbaggers. I've been here since the word 'go.' I was born here and lived here all my life—61 years. I don't know about him. He should restrict his comments to the proper people."

Garry replied: "I'm sorry to say that from a biological standpoint, he has me beat in the length of time in Daly City. But if the shoe fits, put it on."

State Turns Down School Unity Plan

the two proposed districts would be too great.

Laguna Salada has a valuation per student of only $12,442, compared to the entire Jefferson High School District's present $21,528, the board learned.

The other unified district, made up of the Jefferson, Bayshore and Brisbane elementary districts, would have a valuation of $27,063 per student, the figures showed.

Laguna Salada's disparity of nearly $9,000 was reason enough to veto the plan, the board felt, because it would violate terms of the Unruh School Aid bill which provides additional state funds to districts which are unified by next June 30, but along approximately equal population and evaluation lines.

This would be evidence of breaking the law, state board Chairman Thomas W. Braden said in asking for the voice vote.

The evaluation gap was pointed out to the board by Ron Cox, state associate superintendent of public instruction and chief of the division of public school administration.

Arguing for the unification proposal were Mrs. Boudinot and board member Dr. Rodney A. Clark, who maintained that the coastside district could get along alone regardless of the lack of per pupil evaluation.

Thomas F. Noonan of the Jefferson elementary board also argued for the proposal.

Committee Increased

The size of San Mateo County's School District Reorganization Committee was increased last week.

The membership reverted to its original number—11—with three advocates of small districts being elected and one rejected.

Voted off the committee was Walter Henkle of Pacifica.

Taking seats were Thomas Noonan of the Jefferson Elementary School District, Alan Beaumont of Burlingame and Dr. Glen Haydon of Menlo Park. Re-elected was Dr. Ernest Nelson.

Seven other contestants also named 12 winners but were not as accurate in their guess of the 49ers' yardage.

One District Status Asked

The city of Daly City wants the County Board of Supervisors to place all of Daly City in a single supervisory district.

In a letter to the board, Mayor Micheal J. DeBernardi noted that since the recent annexation by Daly City of a portion of Bayshore City, the city has had two supervisory districts within its boundaries. He requested that the board adjust the supervisory boundaries.

Prior to annexation of the Bayshore City area east of Old Bayshore Highway, all of the Daly City area was in supervisory district No. 5. The portion of Bayshore City annexed was, and still is, in district No. 1.

school, issued by the fire chief, and for this reason received a 15-day suspension with loss of pay for that period, he said.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy said the firemen had given various reasons for not attending the classes.

One claimed the classes took him away from his family too much while another said he was familiar with the course content and felt it was not necessary for him to attend, Kennedy said.

district, Klix Chemical company, San Bruno Volkswagen, and one private patrolman in the Westborough area.

From the Westborough watchman, they stole a police revolver, officers said.

Among the 70 items that have been recovered are first-aid kits, toys, transistor radios, cameras, stop watches, tools, electric shavers, more than two dozen tail-light lenses from trucks, cans of motor oil, spray paint, keys, flashlights, auto accessories including tachometers, auto engine parts, and plumbing fixtures.

The boys were arrested by Officers LaChance and Dougherty after a raid on the garage of an apartment house at 935 El Camino Real.

Noticing the two older youths sneaking through the darkness at 4 a.m., the officers halted them and found they were carrying an auto engine tachometer and several other items.

The stolen property had just been taken from the Club View apartments, the boys admitted. Several cars at that address had been entered, they said.

Under questioning, the pair identified three others, neighbor youths in the Mayfair Village and Avalon Park subdivisions, as partners.

to make it clear that we are not haggling over 29 children (the number involved in the bus controversy). We are attacking the board at levels of curriculum, planning and transportation—matters of concern to every parent in Pacifica."

District officials have stated that the bus policies were drawn up by a citizens' committee after considerable study.

Before the county school office can order a recall election in Laguna Salada at least 20 per cent of the district's registered voters must sign the recall petitions.

Last week, residents of the Brisbane School District voted down a recall movement.

CHAMBER DRIVE

An 'Invasion' Will Hit D.C.

AN INVASION, of sorts, will take place in Daly City tomorrow.

Target of the invasion will be Daly City business men and the invaders will be directors of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber President David Friedenberg warns all owners and store managers to arm themselves (with dues) because the directors will be out to obtain as many new members as they can.

The directors plotted the attack at their regular meeting Thursday. They plan to reconnoiter at the Westlake Bowl tomorrow morning at 8 a.m.

From there they will disperse to as many businesses in Daly City as possible to recruit new members. The "invaders" will regroup later for lunch and each director will give a report.

THE MEMBERSHIP drive will be one of the most extensive drives ever conducted by the chamber. The group's goal is to bring the membership up to over 300 from its present 162.

CHANGE IN RESIDENCE

Bayshore Trustee Resigns

Mrs. Marsha Datzman, for 13 years a member of the Bayshore School District board of trustees, has resigned from the board because of a change in residence. She is now living at 190 Lassen Drive, San Bruno.

The board must appoint a successor within 60 days. Mrs. Datzman's term would have expired in April.

The change is the first in the board's membership in about a decade, according to Natalie Lipman, district superintendent. She said Mrs. Katzman had been a "very valuable member" of the board.

She is the mother of four children who progressed through the Bayshore system, Miss Lipman said.

The board accepted the resignation with regret and passed a resolution commending Mrs. Katzman for her long service.

In other business, the board inspected new report cards that are designed to better meet the needs of intermediate school students. They had been approved previously. The board also:

Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Margaret White, a fourth grade teacher at Bayshore School, for health reasons. Mrs. White had been with the district for seven years.

Friar Room Hosts Show

An exhibit of original oil paintings by Marion Saphire is now on display in the Friar Room of Serra Bowl. The exhibit will continue until December 10.

The artist recently held a one-man show of her paintings and collages at the Westlake branch of the Daly City Library.

She has studied with the nationally known painter, Kenneth Noland of Washington, D.C., and in the Bay Area with Helen Breger, Leonard Breger, Tony DeLap and Ivan Majdrafkoff of the faculty of San Francisco Art Institute.

Her paintings in the Friar Room exhibit will be on sale. Part of the proceeds will be donated to organizations that aid blind children.

D.C. History Boost Urged

When people live in Daly City, they should know something about where they live.

At least, that's the contention of Mrs. Shirley Polonsky, wife of Councilman Albert Polonsky. She suggested to William Sweeney Jr., treasurer of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, that Daly City history be promoted in the city's schools.

Sweeney, in turn, brought up the suggestion at a meeting of the chamber.

The result? A special committee has been appointed by the chamber to study the possibility of a history contest, a course in civics or a movie on Daly City for school children.

Chamber Manager Peter Markovich said he has given talks on Daly City before school classes. He said adoption of something like the history of the city in the regular school curriculum would be very good.

Former 3-T Aide Backs Bus Policy

The under-fire transportation policy of the Laguna Salada School district was upheld last week in a letter to trustees from a past member of the district's Three-T Committee.

Mrs. Liese Rapazo of 879 Standish Road, served during the spring on the committee, which reviewed and recommended changes in the basic transportation policy of the district.

She said the district's transportation problems are not static, the school population is not stable and the construction of homes and apartments is erratic.

"To revise the basic policy at this time would not alleviate any temporary, particular or geographic conditions that arise periodically and I suggest the basic policy be continued in effect with exceptions made in individual instances as the board deems advisable," she recommended.

Trustees also heard a progress report on a trial program to allow kindergarten children living between three-fourths of a mile and a mile from school to fill empty seats on established bus routes.

Schools affected are Fairmont, Cabrillo, Ortega, Pacific Heights and Pedro Valley.

District Supt. Fred Lucas said a priority system in this area has been complicated by the rescheduling of present routes and the establishment of new routes to accommodate students who live less than a mile via Lerida Way, but over a mile by alternate routes because of road work.

OPEN LETTER TO THE COLMA KARATE CLUB, KARATE-KA (STUDENTS):

Dear Pen Pals:

This is in response to a letter to the editor you wrote last week praising a 67-year-old female letter writer who had previously rebuffed us for "misleading" readers about Karate, its students and instructors.

To begin with, if the letter-writer was misled, it was her fault, not ours. What we wrote was factual and undistorted.

It is pretty difficult, we feel you must agree, to distort the fact that one San Francisco Karate studio informed us that the fact that we were an ex-convict on parole from an assault rap (we were play-acting, you understand) would in no way retard our membership qualifications.

NOW, AS to your letter. You indicated that the 67-year-old letter writer wasn't about to take someone's (ours) word that Karate schools are, "turning out men and children who would become terrible killers." (Which, incidentally, we never said).

But as long as she is willing to take the objective word of a Karate studio that we were wrong, it's fine with you, we suppose.

You mentioned that she took several of her friends and personally investigated some studios, and that was fine with us. We had hoped people would do this. We're sure it put everybody on their best behavior.

You went on to say that "even in politics, police and other departments of high office, a 'bad guy' will slip by even the fine screening of a well-trained technician."

Assuming that you mean a "well-trained technician" to be at least a psychologist, it seems to us that you are here admitting that you are not well-trained technicians.

All you want is the chance to prove yourselves, you say. Well, go practice your amateur psychology somewhere else, fellas, not in my neighborhood.

LOOK, GUYS, we have no doubt that almost all of you are nice, clean-cut, wholesome family men. We'd probably like every one of you, personally, but as we said in our September 23 column, good intentions relative to screening (which we stated was done in all studios) don't mean a thing when you read a headline, "Karate Gangs Roam San Francisco."

Another thing. We wish you letter-writers would display the same responsibility you're always telling us column writers we should show. We wish you'd read the whole of articles.

While we did state that Karate experts in certain segments of our society had menaced or potentially menaced police, teachers and everyday citizens, we also said:

"We are not implying that all Karate studios, instructors and students are irresponsible kooks or that Karate should be abolished. To be sure, there are legitimate studios, legitimate instructors and people who could be legitimately in need of such training."

"What we advocate is a closer watch on such lethal 'sport' as Karate... through legislation that would take Karate out of the hands of children, and which would require that Karate studios, instructors and students be registered with and controlled by the police..."

We're sure that no legitimate Karate studio would object to such checks.

YOU SAY Karate begins and ends with self-defense, so we'll pose the same question we asked in our September 23 column. How can any sport, whose ultimate objective is to teach to strike, rip and gouge vital organs of a man's body, be called self-defense?

"If you're really interested in self-defense, why not try wrestling (which we've been assured many times is the prime hand-to-hand method of self-defense), which teaches to disable without causing permanent injury. Or how about speed afoot, which even the rugged cave-man used as his best method of self-preservation."

And if all you're really concerned about is physical conditioning, which is what a studio told our 67-year-old letter writer, we suggest you can do much better with isometric exercises, weight-lifting, wrestling (which develops all parts of the body), running in sand, or even dieting.

All such activities, practiced as ardently as you say you practice your beloved sport of Karate, would put you in at least the Charles Atlas — Or, for you modern purists — Jack Lalanne class.

And not one of these exercises requires even the mock striking of a human being, which seems to us to be the hard way to become physically conditioned.

"How's your physical conditioning program coming along, Jack?"

"Oh, it's lagging a little. I only found ten people willing to let me whack them today."

Or, as one policeman put it—facetiously, we admit—"Hell, they can get as much physical conditioning with Karate as they can playing marbles."

WELL, THEY'RE finally getting around to it, we see; offering manager and coachships as plums to young athletes.

Or haven't you read about the Detroit Pistons signing 24-year-old player Dave DeBusschere as player-coach.

Several weeks ago, you may remember, we wrote of how we once wrote a short story in which an 18-year-old baseball player was handed a major league managership as part of his bonus package, and how the story was rejected as being "not believable."

But they're getting closer and closer to it. DeBusschere, who also pitches for the Chicago White Sox, may end up as mentor of that crew, before long, if the clubs start competing for his exclusive services.

Far fetched? How much money would you have put on DeBusschere coaching Detroit when he broke into the league, not even three seasons ago?

Warriors Wallop Rams, Take Title

32-0 ROUT

Westmoor Win Skein Is Halted

By JOE WARD

South San Francisco High School boasted its first North Peninsula League football championship today, thanks to a jarring defense and a halfback named Greg Jones.

The Warrior defense and Jones combined to turn back defending champion Westmoor High School, 32-0, at Daly City Friday.

In scoring their sixth consecutive shutout, the Warriors finished an unbeaten, unscored upon NPL season and handed the Rams their first defeat since the league was formed three years ago.

Jones, Northern California's number two rusher, galloped for four touchdowns and gained 192 yards in an outstanding offensive performance. His running, sparked by the brilliant faking of quarterback John Moro, was simply too much for the Rams.

South San Francisco first hit paydirt on its second play from scrimmage when Jones carried the ball over 20 yards out. On the second series the Warriors' Bill Smith grabbed a Moro aerial for 13 yards and a touchdown. A 17-yard pass from Moro to Smith set up that score.

From this point, until the intermission, Westmoor's defense successfully bottled up the Warrior offense. The Green and White were themselves in scoring position twice, but those efforts eventually failed. The first drive was thwarted when John Price dropped Mike Elston's pass on the three-yard line, and a key penalty nullified an Elston pass to Al Rodriguez inside the Warrior ten-yard line.

The Rams were unable to carry that second quarter performance past the intermission, as the Warriors once again shredded the Westmoor defense. As in the first period, the second Warrior play from scrimmage featured a touchdown sprint by Jones, this time for 21 yards.

Westmoor began to move behind the passing of Elston, but a key interception broke the next scoring threat. All together, Elston picked up 119 yards through the air, but the smashing Warrior defense continually forced his throws astray. Four times South San Francisco's secondary picked off his passes and this proved costly for Westmoor.

Before the third period gounded, South San Francisco once again scored when Jones capped a 13-play drive by crashing over from one yard out. Bozo Olson's conversion kick gave the B Street powerhouse a commanding 26-0 lead.

With no doubt left as to the outcome, both coaches began sending in reserves during the final period. The most spectacular play of the contest came when Jones picked up his fourth touchdown late in the game on a 51-yard gallop.

BATTLE FOR THE CELLAR

Sharks Blank T. N.

By REX APPLEGATE

The North Peninsula League football season is finished today, and as far as the Terra Nova High School Tigers are concerned, the whole thing was pointless.

The Tigers ended the campaign Friday by suffering their fifth straight shutout of the season in losing to Oceana High School, 19-0, at Oceana.

It marked the first win for the Sharks and left Terra Nova all alone in the NPL cellar without a point to show for five league games.

The Sharks took control of the game immediately after the kickoff and never relinquished it. Oceana scored two touchdowns in the first half and came back with another in the fourth period while the Tigers failed to penetrate past the Sharks' 43-yard line at any stage of the game.

Al Morris scored the first Shark touchdown early in the first quarter by tip-toeing down the sidelines from 17 yards out after Ken Cozby blocked a Terra Nova punt on the Tigers' eight-yard line to set up the scoring play.

The Sharks' second touchdown came on a 64-yard drive during which Oceana made five first downs and was penalized 30 yards. Sixteen plays after Chuck Wynia intercepted a Tiger pass on the 46, Steve McCaughy pushed across the goal line from the three.

With five minutes left in the game, the Sharks gained possession on the Tiger 27 and began another march. After a five-yard penalty which put Oceana on the 32, Jim Maule passed to Rich Smith for the Sharks' third touchdown.

The first three horses in the first New Hampshire Sweepstakes run at Rockingham Park — Roman Brother, Knightly Manner and Purser — ran the way they were bet. The winner was favored at 9 to 10. Knightly Manner was 3.60 to 1 and Purser was 7.30 to 1.

Open champion Ken Venturi says the Lotz brothers, John, 23, and Dick, 21, of Hayward, Calif., will become stars on the pro golf tour.

S.F. State to Hold Cage Clinic for D.C. Players

San Francisco State College's varsity basketball clinic will open shop again in Daly City next week.

The popular program will be held in the gymnasium of Westmoor High School, starting at 6:30 p.m. Friday, November 27.

The clinic will be limited to about 500 youngsters. It will be sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

State coach Paul Rundell and members of his varsity squad will teach youngsters everything from the hook shot to defensive tactics. Youngsters also will be taught the rules of basketball.

This year's clinic also will feature a session on strategy for coaches who guide teams in the recreation department's various leagues.

Because of the number of department-sponsored teams, participation in the clinic will be limited to youngsters who are team members. Boys who do not belong to a team may contact the recreation department.

This is one of the reasons a Volkswagen's so reliable.

Volkswagens break down.

Just like everything else in this world. But if everything else in this world could be put back in shape as easily as a Volkswagen, the world would be in pretty good shape.

Volkswagens are easily fixable because fixing them was part of the original design. For one thing, Volkswagens don't change drastically from year to year.

So VW mechanics get plenty of practice and plenty good at servicing Volkswagens. And they never have to fiddle with a carburetor, touch up a clutch, or yank out a cable with their fingers crossed.

When improvements are made, most of the new parts are made to fit the older models. Which means you can get parts for vintage VWs without making a tour of the local junkyards for them.

And Volkswagen parts are easy to install. We can replace a fender with just ten bolts. Or an entire engine in just ninety minutes.

In fact, that's another reason Volkswagens hold together so well: they come apart so easily.

Colts Down Indians

By JIM FRANCO
El Camino High School held third place and Jefferson High School held fourth place in the North Peninsula League final football standings today.

The Colts moved up the ladder and pushed the Indians down Friday by posting a 12-7 victory at Clifford Field in South San Francisco.

The defensive work of Bob Iacono and the running of Wayne Caton proved too much for Jefferson to handle as the Colts scored two quick third-period touchdowns and made them hold up for a victory.

Neither team could get on the scoreboard until the third period. Then El Camino exploded. The first Colts score came after the Indians were stopped deep in their own territory, where they punted. A few plays later Mike Tyler hit Bill Jones on a touchdown pass play that covered 42 yards.

The Colts tallied again on the next series of downs, after intercepting a Jefferson Pass. They took possession on the Indians 30 and six plays later Wayne Caton crashed over from the three.

The Indians picked up their only tally in the final quarter when Rich Cuadra hit Tom Bettencourt with a five-yard pass. Al Namanny kicked the extra point.

A-OKs Trade League Lead

The A-OK's took over sole possession of first place in the Pacifica Recreation Department's Adult Volleyball League by downing the Beginners last week.

It was a close game all the way, but the Beginners finally succumbed by a 4-3 margin.

In other scheduled games of the week, the Sea Gulls posted their first win of the season by completely dominating the previously unbeaten Skyliners, 4-0. The Left-Overs downed the Netles 4-2.

Dodge Ridge Sets Record

Dodge Ridge Ski resort, which had a hurried opening due to the early snow fall last week, is today smiling.

The resort recorded its biggest opening in history as snow fans flocked to the slopes.

Pacifica Recreation Football

Here is a rundown of action in football leagues sponsored by the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department:

CLASS A

The Colts won their fourth game of the season, downing the Hawks, 18-2, to remain in a first place tie with the Eagles. Chuck Reynolds ran five yards for one touchdown and passed 15 yards to Mickey Lockhart for another.

In the final quarter, Lockhart ran 30 yards for the Colts' final tally. Mike Calder tackled a Colt in the end zone for the Hawks' only score.

The Eagles kept their share of the top rung by whipping the Warriors, 33-19. The Warriors held a 12-7 lead going into the final quarter but the Eagles roared back with four touchdowns to take the win.

Mike Leslie scored three TD's and Bob Wynia and Bruce Heise each scored one for the Eagles. Vince Lampedecchio figured in all three Warrior scores—one on a 38-yard pass interception and two on passes too Mike Ackerman and Scott Burgoyne.

CLASS B

The Steelers nipped the Panthers, 18-13, to stay in contention for the loop crown. John Riewerts, Steve Young and Bob Chaney each tallied for the winners. Panther TD's were picked up by Mike Tilton and by Mike Minan on a pass from Duke Koll.

Navy walloped the Vikings, 40-7, to remain atop the league standings and take its sixth straight win. Mike Myers ran for one TD and passed to Mike Johnson and Ed Buffington for two others while Dennis Thomas ran for two TD's and Kevin Fowler ran for another. Rick Booth dashed 30 yards for the lone Viking score.

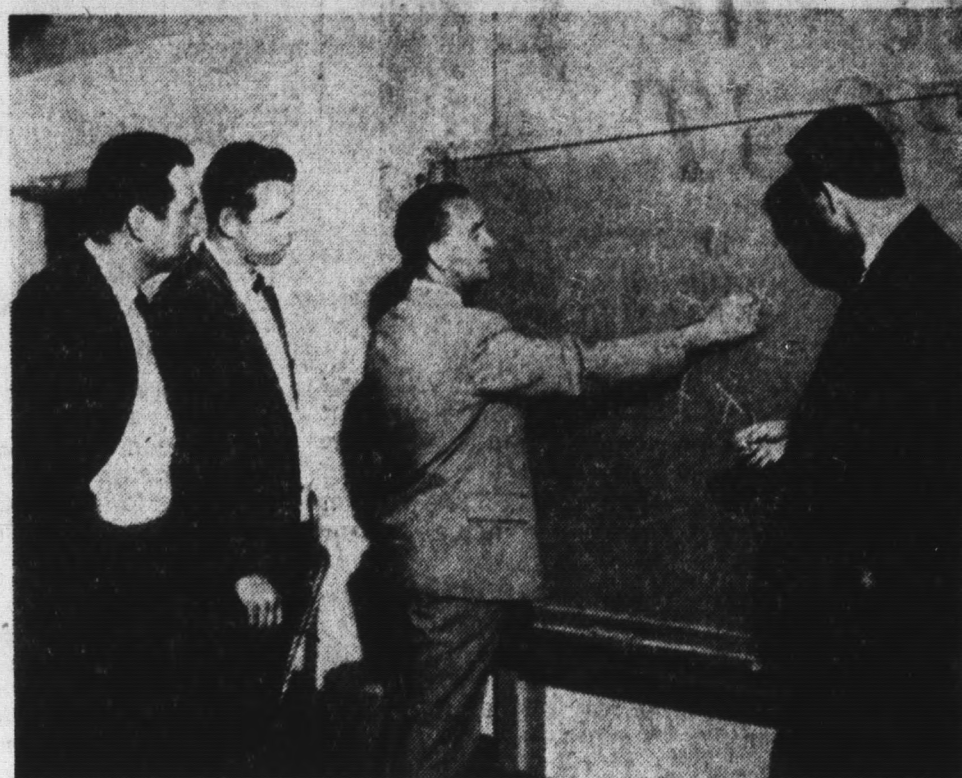

CLASS C

The Tigers rolled over the Bears, 38-0, as four players hit the scoring column. Tallying touchdowns were Bobby Giamona, Rich Beall, John Hart and Mike Inghram. Beall picked up three TD's.

Here are the standings:

Colma Soccer Loop Opens Season Play

After several weeks of learning the finer points of the game, youngsters in the Daly City Recreation Department-Colma School Soccer League began play last week.

In the opening contest, the Phantoms beat the Flintstones 3-2, on scores by Andy Thimolea and Bruce Bjoring. The second game saw the Dutchmen overwhelm the Casualiers, 7-0, as Pete Michon, Jim Wheeler, Rich Salgado and Willie Calios scored.

The Tycoons downed the Imperials, 2-0, on scores by Bob Pacheco and Joe Masingay while the Hillbillies and the Pineapples rang up a 3-3 tie. Steve Kirby tallied all three goals for the Pineapples while Archie Robostoff scored twice and Rudy Medina once, for the Hillbillies.

Thursday, the Disciples downed the Go-Getters, 5-3, on four goals by Junior Rebarber and one by Tom Pipkin. La-velle Winding and Steve Jacobson tallied for the Go-Getters. The Casualiers nipped the Imperial, 2-1; the Tycoons beat the Dutchmen and the Hillbillies the Flintstones, 6-2, and the tied, 1-1.

PACIFICA CHAMBER

Hospital Bylaw Opinions Asked

Pacificans were urged last week to write Mary's Help Hospital and give their opinions on a new hospital by-law that will become effective when Mary's Help moves into its new building in Daly City next year.

The by-law, in essence, would restrict general practitioners — the so-called family doctors — from the hospital's surgical and maternity departments.

Coast Sales Half Million Up Over '63

Taxable retail sales in Pacifica in the last quarter were about a half million dollars above the similar quarter last year, Basil Gladieux, manager of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce, told chamber members last week.

Last quarter totals were $3,493,000 compared to $2,979,000, Gladieux said. He said the higher figure reflected a "shop-at-home" program sponsored by Pacifica business leaders.

In other chamber news, Gladieux reported that a list of all Pacifica community organizations had been distributed to members and that the chamber's annual Blue Book of businesses and general city data was being prepared.

He said a combined city anniversary, Shop-at-Home promotion kickoff and Chamber's Night Out dinner will be held Saturday night at the Longtable Restaurant.

GUNS STOLEN

Colma Hardware of 7340 Mission Street, Daly City, reported to police this week that thieves had stolen a shotgun and several BB guns.

TV SET STOLEN

The Mission Bell Motel at 6843 Mission Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that a portable television set had been stolen from a motel unit.

College Corner

San Mateo

THE STUDENTS and staff of College of San Mateo are reactivating the college blood bank. Registration is being taken in the Student Center from prospective donors for a mass donation to be made January 12 at the Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank in Burlingame.

Purpose of the drive is to build up "credits" at the bank so that persons at the college who participate may be supplied blood in the event of need. The college bank was first organized in 1962, but was allowed to lapse last year, according to Pat Hill of San Mateo who is heading the student phase of the campaign. Faculty advisor is Ruth Weston, dean of women.

Students under 21 years of age must obtain written permission from their parents to be accepted as donors, Miss Hill said.

TWO NORTH County girls have been named among those chosen to lead College of San Mateo's routing section at athletic events this year.

Joy Kratochvil of Daly City and Jerri McKinnon of Pacifica are members of CSM's Peppercettes who, together with the cheerleaders and pompon girls, exhort CSM fans to cheer for the Bulldogs.

A GIFT OF scientific materials has been presented to the College of San Mateo by Dr. Alfred W. Stickney of San Mateo, mining engineer and geologist and former associate of the late President Herbert Hoover.

The gift includes issues of Economic Geology dating back to the early 1920s, old volumes of U.S. Geological Survey professional papers and microscopic thin sections of rocks and minerals.

All are intended for student use in the physical sciences division.

Dr. Stickney's wife, Mildred, teaches business subjects at the college.

He had known Hoover since the second decade of the century when they participated together in a natural resources exploration of Russia.

S. F. State

TOM CARTER, 25, 121 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City, has been chosen managing editor of the Daily Golden Garter at San Francisco State College.

A journalism major, Carter was appointed second-in-command by Editor Jeff Link. Last year, he received the Garter's "Best Journalist" award.

The Garter is read by more than 15,000 students at SFS each day.

Carter is the son of Mrs. R. G. Bottoms, of Whittier.

He graduated from the University High School, Bloomington, Ind., in 1967. In high school, he was a varsity tennis player.

He attended the University of Texas for two years on a tennis scholarship and has also studied at the University of Maryland and the College of Marin.

A SPAN OF varied epochs will be seen in the San Francisco State College regular art movies program to be shown at 7:30 p.m. today in the Main Auditorium of the Creative Arts Building at 1600 Holloway Avenue.

Films will be included from the 1920s, 1930s and contemporary times.

Included will be two vintage items, a rocco study of the dances of Salome from the 1920s, and "Masterpieces of Master's Work," a survey of the life of Marcel Proust.

A French film, "Soap Bubbles," made in 1934, is a satirical view of Adolph Hitler and the Nazis.

Additional subjects will be "The Runner," filmed in Canada, a novelty offering, "Flavio," and several additional unique film items.

The art movies at San Francisco State are offered by the Associated Students. Admission is free.

D. C. Youth Is Injured

A 17-year-old Daly City youth was injured slightly when his auto and another car collided at Glenwood and Eastgate Avenues about 12:30 a.m. last Wednesday.

Douglas LaFauci of 431 Southgate Avenue was treated at Peninsula Hospital for a left arm injury and dismissed.

Police said the driver of the other car was Dennis A. Markey, 17, of 16 Fairmont Drive, Daly City. They said both cars were totally wrecked.

THEFT REPORTED

Officials of Jefferson High School at 8996 Mission Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that $11 in currency and cans of food had been stolen from the administration building.

Early Pacifica Planners Visit City

By MARILYN BRANNAN
Two city planning consultants who played major roles seven years ago when Pacifica was in its infancy returned the other day to join citizens and Pacifica city officials in a day-long city planning seminar at Oceana high school.

Coordinator for the University of California-sponsored seminar was Pacifica's first mayor, Jane Hicks. Miss Hicks presently is acting head of the city planning extension program at the University.

Speaking in the morning session was Louis J. Kroeger, the firm that organized and administered while Pacifica took her first faltering steps as a city.

Also participating in this day dedicated to Pacifica's future were Roy W. Potter, planning director for the city of Fremont, and Norman J. Lind, Oakland's city planning director.

Kroeger, a national leader in all levels of governmental planning, spoke about the roles played by the various policy boards, staff members and citizens in a city planning process.

Potter discussed the scope and content of city planning and revealed some of the problems faced and accomplishments made during Fremont's planning process eight years ago. After a luncheon at Nick's Rockaway Restaurant, the more than fifty interested citizens returned to the high school multipurpose room to participate in a case study of development plans for Pacifica's southeast area. This study was conducted by Lind.

Kroeger stressed that city planners must engage the interest of the whole citizenry, since planning concerns the entire community, and that "good compromise" is an important facet of this process.

"Good compromise is the proper balancing of conflicting interest so that the best aspects of each side is embraced," he said.

He added that the first and most vital step is the examination of a city's goals in joint meetings between officials and citizens. While stressing that each individual occupied with city planning must consider his job the most important in the process, he emphasized the need for close co-operation.

"We must never forget that the roles of city planners are not soliloquies. They are an interplay of all forces with every-one understanding the position and function of everyone else," he stated.

Fremont's Planning Director, Roy Potter, said Fremont's stated goals included a proper industry-commerce balance and an optimum housing mix.

"We like to think of Fremont as a life-cycle neighborhood with multiple residences, parks and community facilities in every district," he noted.

Coast 'Crash' Rescheduled

The weatherman was the villain October 29 when Pacifica's huge annual civil defense alert, including amock air crash, was rained out.

However, it takes more than a deluge to dampen the spirit of a civil defense worker and the mock crash has been rescheduled for tomorrow, according to Paul Rushing, deputy director of the city's civil defense and disaster council.

Approximately 200 workers will participate in the drill and put into practice techniques they would have to master in case of actual disaster.

The center of action will be the Eureka Shopping Center.

Microwave System Aired

The county-wide microwave system was the major topic for discussion at the monthly meeting of Pacifica's Civil Defense and Disaster Council.

Deputy Director Paul Rushing, explained that 17 cities in San Mateo County have set up a microwave system at North Peak and communications between all municipalities is possible by radio.

"It is soon to be made possible by telephone also," Rushing said.

"If power goes out anywhere in the area, a special telephone system operating off microwave would go into operation and supply communication facilities," he added.

The council discussed the costs of putting the telephone set-up into operation.

Rushing said that at present, the Pacifica Police Department can receive radio calls from Redwood City and other member cities.

Poor George

GEORGE GOBEL, currently starring in the Circle Star Theatre's production of "Bye Bye Birdie," is a picture of mock despair here. He has good reason. His million-dollar rock 'n' roll singer, Conrad Birdie, has just been drafted and his girl has left him. But, giving him comfort and sympathy are a few of Conrad's friends, including Susan Alexander, right, a junior at Westmoor High School and a member of the talented teen chorus featured in "Bye Bye Birdie." At left is Evanna Lynn. "Bye Bye Birdie" will run through Sunday.

Teens Ready Themselves For Working

Stores in the San Francisco-Daly City area will employ a number of Westmoor High School students during the Christmas holidays.

Many have already signed up to be sales clerks, stock boys and to work in other capacities. As in previous years, the Youth Employment Program at Westmoor High was reactivated shortly after school began, in September.

The daily bulletin carried a notice asking persons with employment cards or those who desired them to sign up at the registrar's office for future jobs.

At Westmoor Mrs. Marianna Linard, youth employment representative of the state will be calling students into the office on Wednesdays from 9 to noon.

"The jobs are on a first come-first served basis," she said in telling how applications for jobs are processed.

She added that although all Christmas jobs are now taken, students interested in jobs for next year's Christmas holidays should get applications at the beginning of the next school year.

Students of all ages may apply for jobs in the surrounding area. Said Mrs. Linard, "Only when there are a great many applications, do the seniors have preference."

TACHOMETER STOLEN
Carol Elmore of 240 Lake Merced Boulevard, Daly City, reported to police last week that a tachometer had been stolen from her auto.

Terra Nova Topics

DO YOU SPEAK Spanish or French?

Think back when you were taking a language course. There were many books and plenty of hard work. After hours of tedious repetition and memory work you finally became a master of the language.

Today that's all changed. There is still the hard drive and study involved, but memorizing has become fun—at least at Terra Nova.

Terra Nova has just added a special language lab. This one is quite modern and comfortable and carpeted with blue and gold carpets. Students are seated behind small booths which are partitioned off from surrounding disturbances.

In the booths, the students wear earphones which they control. A tape plays continually, repeating the lesson over and over while the student repeats it.

This seems to be a good thing for teaching and learning. It helps the teacher to keep from getting fatigued and keeps the students from getting bored. The class is run under otherwise usual conditions, one section of the period being reserved for lab work.

THE RAINY SEASON is back again and the new auxiliary gym is being put to the test. Since P. E. classes cannot play outside all must do their physical activity indoors. When the school had one gym, many classes were called off for the day due to lack of space. Now there is plenty of room for all, and everyone participates, rain or shine.

Last Thursday night, junior and senior students and their parents attended "College Night." This was a program set up by the counselors to help students plan their future college days. Speakers came from the University of San Francisco, San Francisco State, and the College of San Mateo.

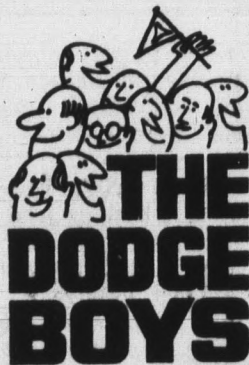

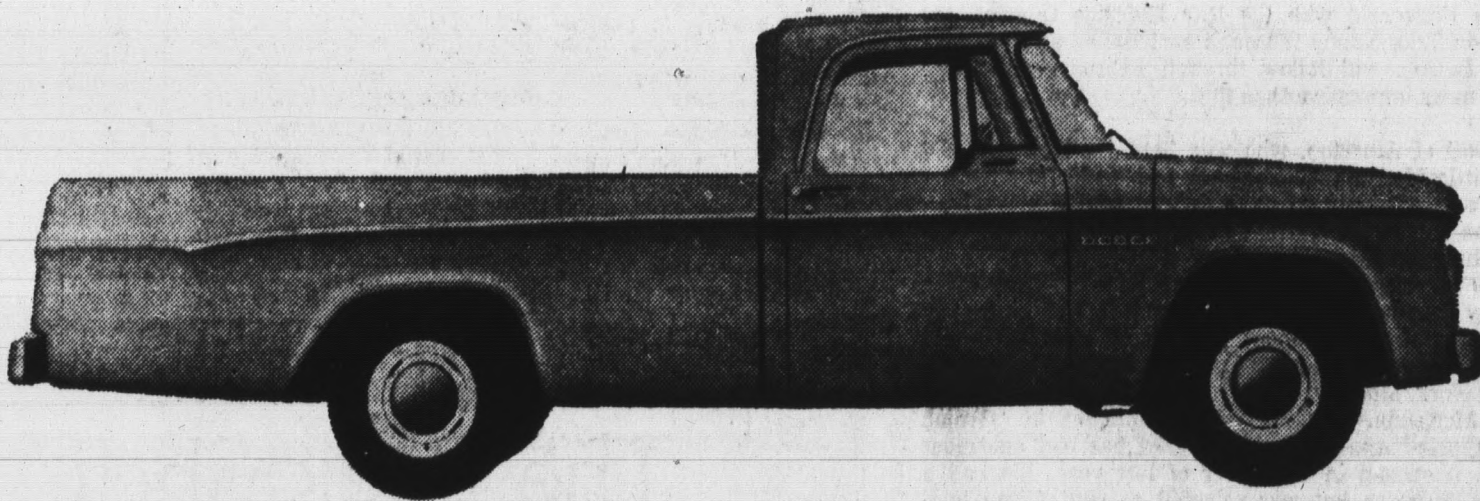

CLUBS ARE BUSY these days planning for future field trips and activities. The International Relations Club is going to the University of California for a mock United Nations meeting on which they will be presenting the country of Yemen.

Future Teachers of America went to the University of California for a teachers' conference Saturday. They reviewed the preparation for becoming a teacher, and afterward attended the California-Utah football game.

The Pep Club members want to look their best this year. The girls are now wearing black pleated skirts with gold vests and white blouses. A tie will be worn which will read "Tigers."

Want to drive a tough bargain?

See the Dodge Boys

Your soft-hearted Dodge Boys want to make it easy for you to drive the toughest bargain in town—the rugged, reliable, roomy Dodge pickup. This great pickup has everything—it's got a cargo space that's big enough to handle most any load—over a long haul or a short one! It's tough enough to handle the jobs and the jolts. It looks good enough to park at the Mark. Yet you save on the initial price of a Dodge pickup! Your maintenance costs are rock bottom; your hauling costs stay right down there where they belong. And talk about power—either the gutsy, economical slant size engine or the optional V-8 will give you the horses to really deliver the goods.

Vehicle Check Merits Support

EVERY DRIVER has a stake in cutting down the annual loss of life and property caused by traffic accidents. Police departments, driver licensing authorities, highway departments and others charged with the responsibilities of helping achieve greater safety on the streets and highways are working hard to solve the traffic accident problem. But they cannot do the job alone. Private citizens have to do their part, too.

This is why we wholeheartedly endorse Daly City's Vehicle Safety Check Week program now in progress. This city-wide voluntary vehicle check, sponsored by the city and the Daly City Rotary club, in co-operation with 14 local service stations, deserves the unanimous participation of Daly City's motoring public.

More than two out of every three vehicles on the road today have not been officially checked to see if they meet basic mechanical requirements for safe driving on streets and highways.

More than a half million vehicles examined during a recent National Vehicle Safety Check needed attention to at least one of the items checked. No one knows how many traffic accidents are caused by vehicles in unsafe condition. But even the best driver does not stand a 50-50 chance of avoiding a possibly disabling or fatal accident if his car is not in safe condition.

AS THE CITY proclamation designating November 14-21 Vehicle Safety Week declares: "It is the individual responsibility of every citizen to help prevent traffic accidents. The sponsoring organizations urge every driver to: Check your car — check your driving — check accidents."

With the energies of the city, Rotarians and other church and civic groups behind it, Vehicle Safety Check Week has almost all the necessary elements of a successful campaign.

The one missing ingredient is the active support and participation of individual drivers.

Vehicle Safety Check Week provides Daly City drivers with a chance to help insure their own driving safety as well as contribute to a program that will benefit the entire motoring community.

We urge enthusiastic support of Vehicle Safety Check week and commend the sponsors as well as the participating service stations who are helping make it possible.

The Marquee

Top Jazz Series Set

Barbara Bladen

AT THE RATE our two new professional theatres are progressing, we may yet see a return to the Peninsula of all the fledgling, professional and big name localities. The western move may be already on its way.

Danny Dare and Sammy Lewis who have barely had time to gloat over the good reviews they received for their first two productions at Circle Star Theatre have acquired property for two new theatres. Laurel, Maryland, is the first location and they'll have a fourth one in West Covina before the end of next year. How's that for positive thinking!

The big news out of Herb Rogers' Hyatt Music Theatre is the signing of several of the biggest names on the jazz scene for a Celebrity Concert Series beginning in December. Louis Armstrong will team with Sarah Vaughn for a week in December. Ella Fitzgerald with the Roy Eldridge Quartet, the Oscar Peterson Trio, Nancy Wilson, Pearl Bailey and her husband, Louis Brelson, will follow through February 14. There isn't a lineup more impressive than that.

BICK GOSS of Atherton, who was here recently with Sid Caesar in "Little Me," went right back to New York when the show closed and got right in as a dancer with a new show, "Bajour." The dancer writes that Peter Gennaro of television is doing the choreography.

The show is trying out in Philadelphia and stars Chita Rivera, Nancy Dussanuk and Herschel Bernardi. Written by two Broadway newcomers, it's about gypsies in Manhattan and the way they live and affect others. It's due at the Shubert Theatre, New York, Monday.

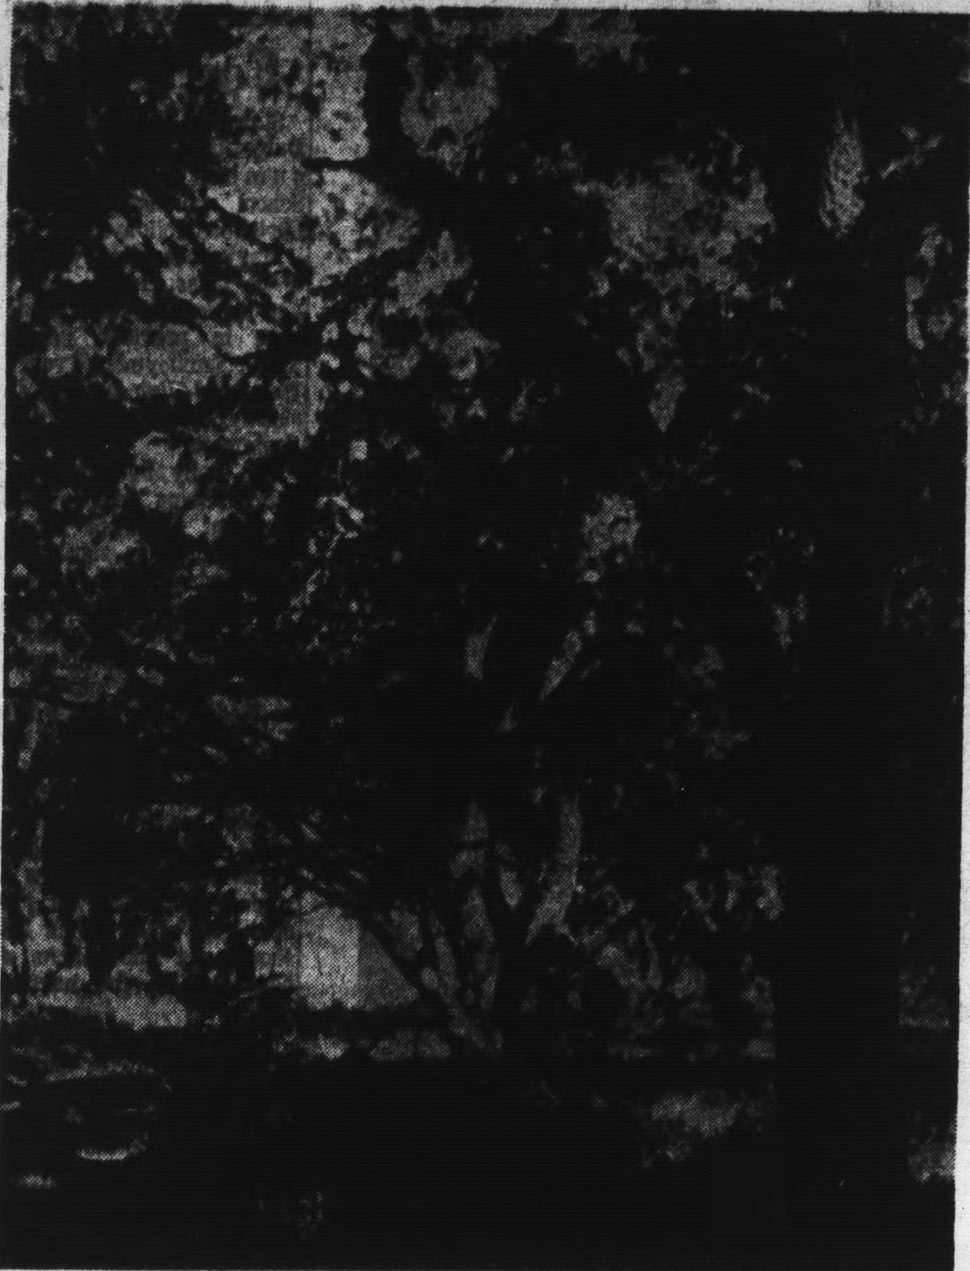

Marilyn McKenna, of San Mateo, continues in "Trojan Women" at Circle-in-the-Square. The show has had enormous success since it opened in December of last year. It's had a complete cast turnover but was selected as one of pay television's offerings in San Francisco last month and is still running strong.

KAREN LUDWIG of Daly City left the above mentioned Off-Broadway cast to play the only woman's role in "The Deputy" further up town. We are disappointed that the controversial show won't tour "on the road." The reports are that many of the theatre managers across the country are reluctant to have the show booked. Karen tells me that the show will probably close in New York before the end of November but now in its thirty-fifth week it is still grossing good box office.

Two well-known local actresses were listed in the program for "Show Boat" at the Hyatt Music Theatre but only one made an appearance, Nancy (Mrs. Bruce) Wagner had a shining cameo as the Irish landlady but Evelyn (Mrs. G. E.) Talbot, who rehearsed right up to curtain time, was cut out of the show at the very last minute. The director explained that the producer likes longer intermissions. It was an unfortunate decision because Hillman players, fans and supporters were there "en masse" that night to cheer on their two co-members.

Joy Talbot, the attractive actress-model who always received good notices for her performances in local little theatre productions has been living in Spain for a year. She will vacation from her night club stint as singer-dancer to return home for the holidays. If the San Carlos and Burlingame directors are fast enough they may snag her as a permanent member of the chorus.

Robin Hood Country

AN OAK FOREST rivaling the storied land of Robin Hood's Sherwood Forest may be found within Caswell Memorial State Park, located on the banks of the Stanislaus River, a few miles from either Ripon or Manteca. The 258-acre park until this year had been largely limited to "rough" type picnicking and swimming. Facilities for camping now include showers and rest rooms. Flowers at Caswell are almost a year-round event. The park is considered a naturalist's paradise. This is another in a series on parks and historical areas within a day's driving time of the North County.

North County Notebook

Hooray for The Big Guys!

Ron Bates

WHY IS IT that the big corporations are always doing such nice things for us little people?

At least this is the impression a person would get if he believes all that he reads in magazine ads and sees on television or in free movies distributed by some industries.

A perfect example was a film that Daly City Lions viewed last week entitled, "Every Drop Fit to Drink."

Although the films are mostly propaganda, they have some interesting information if you care to wade through them. In this case it was soap suds we had to wade through and naturally they were put out by our protector—the soap industry.

IT WAS REALLY wonderful of the industry to begin research on water pollution and the role hard detergents played in pollution ten years ago.

And it was even more wonderful to hear that the soap manufacturers spent all those millions to convert their plants to produce a detergent that would break down under treatment in sewage plants.

I think it was probably just an oversight that they forget to mention that legislation to ban the sale of hard detergents was pending in California and had already been passed in several other states and West Germany.

It was probably another oversight the film didn't mention that the gigantic mounds of suds that have appeared in rivers and streams throughout the country were causing consternation among the citizenry.

And as the guest speaker at the Lions meeting, Dick Aberley of Brown and Caldwell Consulting Engineers, noted: "It's kind of disconcerting to draw a glass of water out of the tap that has a head on it like a beer."

NEVERTHELESS, the film did bring out some facts that were interesting and, coincidentally of course, beneficial to the soap company's corporate image.

For example, there has never been a case of fish dying because of soapy water. In their natural habitat, I mean, not in the fish tank. (I hasten to add this because my wife reminds me that there is an empty aquarium in our garage thanks to our two-year-old's desire for clean fish.)

The film also said that soapy water is not toxic and is more of a nuisance than a pollution factor.

An example of nuisance: Aberley said that when he was at a treatment plant at Tahoe, a mound of suds the size of a house floated away and got caught in an air current that took it up about a thousand feet. You can imagine the surprise of the pilot and passengers of the airliner that ran into it.

WHAT REALLY pollutes the water are nasty, nasty things like industrial waste, algae and raw sewage. I noticed in the film that these things were always black, while the soap suds always were white.

Thrown in throughout the film were valuable tidbits of information—like, it takes 150 gallons of water to grow enough wheat for one loaf of bread. Or, one-third of the homes in the United States use septic tanks or cesspools to treat their sewage.

Or, at the turn of the century, B.D. (BEFORE Detergents) a person used ten gallons of water a day for such things as drinking, bathing, cooking, etc. Today he uses about 150-gallons a day.

The film ended with a dramatic message in sort of a Mister District Attorney radio finale that went something like this:

"The soap industry cannot solve all the problems of pollution because it is not the sole cause of water pollution. We urge that public support financing programs to build facilities that can help to keep our water clean." Or something like that.

ACTUALLY, I THINK the film was well done, despite the propaganda for the soap industry. If nothing else, it gets people to think about pollution of our water.

And if enough people think about it long enough and hard enough, maybe something will be done about it.

Today, for example, the soft detergents that have been developed by the soap industry are less sudsy and are on the shelves with big stripes on the box saying, "New Improved..."

Aberley said the timetable of the industry has been stepped up and by mid-1965, all of those nasty old hard detergents will be off the shelf. Hooray for the big guys!

The Book Shelf

By SAMUEL C. CHANDLER
Daly City Librarian

MAURICE LEMMEL, author of "Gambling Nevada Style," is a San Francisco mailman who calls himself "an average amateur gambler who never made a net gain during any calendar year."

While he may be an average mailman, he's more than an average gambler. He's hit the clubs from Tahoe to Wendover, from Jack Pat to Las Vegas, and he's played the games, craps, roulette, keno, faro, and blackjack.

He regards gambling as a recreation for which he expects to pay, but his aim is to keep the costs as low as possible.

Therefore, he devotes his book to explaining how one can enjoy himself for less than a dollar an hour. Much of his emphasis is upon controlling one's bets and taking advantage of breaks that are, he says, "in the area of self-discipline" and within the limits of one's pocket book.

HE REGARDS roulette and keno as more expensive and more sucker games than craps — yet he carefully explains how they are played and relates what the house must clear on them, and how the players may enjoy them for a minimum amount of money.

His advice seems sound enough — his technical information is clear—but his statements regarding the general operations of the casinos and their association with criminals seems a bit naive.

For people interested in gambling in Nevada, this book of first hand information should prove useful.

IT IS NOT, however, as broad a book as John Scarne's "Complete guide to Gambling." This 1961 publication contains twenty-six chapters that deal with topics from horse racing to craps.

It is a thorough book by a man who knows gambling from the inside. For 30 years he has worked in close contact with the major casinos of the world and the major gamblers.

He presents their tricks and explains their operations and methods. His is a reference book, a how-to-do-it book and a history all in one large, useful volume.

Pacific Parade

Mons. Cugnot Started It All

Don Miller

NICOLAS CUGNOT started something back in 1769 that, we're just about convinced, is getting more out of hand every day. Monsieur Cugnot was a Frenchman who is generally credited with putting together the first self-propelled vehicle.

He assembled a three-wheeled carriage with a cumbersome steam power plant operating on a single front wheel. He claimed then that his remarkable machine could roar along at all of two and a half miles per hour.

Although there was no way of knowing it at the time, he started a technological and social revolution that now, winding up its second century, is threatening to overwhelm us all as surely as if the flood waters of Noah's time had not subsided but had stuck around for a while.

The automobile today has become to the American and to the European what the sacred cow is to the Indian, what the horse is to the Arab. He cherishes it — too often — above all else and will forgive it anything.

Including monumental traffic jams, eye-smarting smog, a countryside splattered with concrete and an ever-louder cacophony of horns and engines and the squeal of rubber.

Last year, the automobile industry easily won the population derby — producing 7,340,000 cars while only 4,167,000 Americans were born. In the next two decades, the nation's total of registered cars is expected to reach 115 million. It's about 81 million right now.

What this means, of course, is more concrete in the diminishing wide open spaces, more monumental traffic jams and more smog — the only partially-effective smog control device on California cars notwithstanding.

ALL OF WHICH leads us to the main point of this dissertation on a phenomenon — it seems the average American doesn't stop to consider. Either we must re-orient our thinking about the automobile as something sort of built into the Bill of Rights or we will someday be in servitude to a machine.

That some degree of automotive slavery is already in existence is evident to any Bay Area motorist who is patient enough to motor along one of our freeways during the rush hour. There he will see as much entrapment of homo sapiens as if he were touring a prison.

This entrapment, of course, can universally be found these days — on the Long Island Expressway in New York, for example, dubbed the world's longest parking lot by exasperated commuters, or in Tokyo where one could grab a quick sandwich, 40 winks and a haircut while waiting for traffic to move a couple of blocks.

The commuter who works in San Francisco by the way, though painfully aware of the daily struggle on Bay Area roads and freeways, is almost the piteous of freedom when compared to his counterpart in New York.

For that eastern gargantuan houses a permanent population of 1,600,000 automobiles before the commuter even pokes his bumper over the George Washington Bridge or through the Lincoln Tunnel or off the Henry Hudson Parkway.

New York is, actually, one gigantic car trap for four of its five boroughs are on islands fed by bridges and tunnels that are, themselves, the worst traffic bottlenecks of all.

NOT LONG AGO we viewed a satirical British cartoon that summed up all this growing automotive madness rather succinctly. It depicted the societies of the world trying to find ways of building autos faster to keep up with an even faster demand.

A scientist ultimately came up with the solution — an auto that would reproduce itself automatically. The result, shown in hilarious animated fashion, were streets that rapidly filled with cars, with cars on top of cars, with cars on top of cars that were on top of cars until soon the cars were many stories high and the tops of the city's tallest buildings could no longer be seen and the world had become one big parking lot.

Although this was all greatly exaggerated, it made one wonder just where we're going to put this mounting supply of autos that is mounting directly in relation to mounting demand.

The answer that seems to us to be more logical all the time is that a re-thinking is necessary about the role the automobile should play in our society, in our economy, in our life.

With automobile production so inextricably involved in the economy of this country and, to an increasing extent, in the economy of other nations as well, tampering with this historic business throttle cannot help but be one of the most delicate of maneuvers.

The automobile will always have its place in our way of things. The magnitude of this role is what we question.

FORTUNATELY, we in the Bay Area are witnessing a solution — and it may turn out to be THE solution — to this ever-rising motoring mania. And that is Bay Area Rapid Transit — a system that, in its simplest terms, is supposed to move far greater numbers far faster in less space than could the present interminable line of cars that crawl along our freeways and over our bay bridges each day.

Whether enough Bay Area motorists will want to abandon their highly individual and independent-minded way of going to work each day and ride BART instead remains to be seen but if enough do, then we will perhaps see at least a start in this automotive re-thinking process.

We thus can see rapid transit as a solution, to intra-city auto strangulation. But the eventually even more profound question of transporting people out of the cities and their suburbs to the beaches, parks and outdoor playgrounds and back again without creating out in the country what we have finally banished in the city is more difficult.

Here we get right to the core of that feeling toward the auto as an inalienable right for it would be exceedingly difficult, if not almost impossible, to tell John Q. Public that he should take a bus into the countryside instead of his car for a Sunday drive.

And yet, that may have to be the order of the day. For the way things are going, it looks like it's going to be bumper-to-bumper from Los Angeles to San Francisco one of these days.

Peninsula Panorama

Chill Season Has Its Charm

George Whitesell

MOST OF THIS Peninsula bids a reluctant farewell to the summer and Indian summer seasons, and some Peninsulans absolutely refuse to acknowledge the drop in temperatures.

These latter folk are the hardy souls who keep on using their swimming pools all winter long and can be seen shopping for the Thanksgiving turkey in shorts and a halter.

While the rest of us are shivering and breaking out in "gooseflesh" they go nonchalantly about as if the summer breezes were still blowing.

It is enough to make your teeth chatter to look at them.

As for the rest of us, the advent of colder weather is not counted a hardship.

In fact, a good many of us welcome the coming of crisp, cold mornings that put sparkle in the eyes and snap in the step.

The head goes up, the shoulders go back, the stride grows longer, the very air seems headier when you inhale and there is a gentle fog a couple of inches from the nose when you exhale.

We might prefer balmy weather, but the chill season is not without its charms.

HOT COFFEE serves the double purpose of warming and waking us up. Breakfast tastes better and we eat more of it.

Clothes fit more snugly and feel more comfortable. Hats and gloves are no longer superfluous and a topcoat feels good.

And the members of the girl-watchers societies hail the beginning of the annual sweater displays.

All of a sudden the heater becomes one of the most important parts of the family automobile.

The thermostats go up and likewise the gas bills.

The kids start closing the doors without having to be told.

Cleaning the fireplace becomes less of a chore when the thought of a brisk and lively blaze is one of the best parts of coming home at night.

The whole house seems cozier and it takes good reason to get us out at night.

THE TV NETWORKS know about this and that is why they schedule their top shows in the colder months. They figure you'll be at home with the set turned on.

There are subtle changes in the menu on the dinner table. Staunch, filling dishes that warm the cockles of the heart, and that haven't been seen since last spring, make a welcome reappearance.

A hot oven no longer seems so hot and there may be homemade pie or cake for dessert. Even the pets stick closer around the house. A dog discovers he no longer has urgent business a couple of blocks away, and a cat rediscovers those favorite warm spots he stayed curled up in last winter.

BED NEVER felt better. It is a pleasure to climb into for a night's sleep and it is harder to get out of in the morning.

An extra blanket across the foot of the bed is an agreeable sight, and the electric blankets get turned up a notch or so.

Slippers and robes that were ignored during the summer are called back into service.

Despite the Peninsula's fame for "outdoor living," the colder weather brings more gaiety. The party season gets into swing and keeps on swinging.

The cold brew that tasted so good in the patio is replaced by headier stuff and the hot toddy raises its steaming head.

Playing cards becomes a popular indoor sport again.

In a score of small ways the coming of colder days and nights tends to knit families more closely together and to bring back pleasures with friends and neighbors. It's a good time of the year.

Relax and enjoy it.

New Church for Fairmont

THE REVEREND Otto W. Henn, organizing minister of Covenant Presbyterian Church, and Marvin Dixon of 35 Clearview Drive in Daly City, a member of the congregation, place a new sign on the church's building site on Hickey Boulevard in Fairmont. The Laguna Salada Elementary School Board has granted the congregation permission to use the Fairmont School for services.

Board Okays School Use For Church

The Laguna Salada Elementary School District Board of Trustees has granted permission to the Covenant United Presbyterian Church of Pacifica to hold services at the new Fairmont Elementary School. The first service will be held Sunday.

According to the Rev. Otto W. Henn, the services will continue there while the congregation builds its own facilities on its building site along Hickey Boulevard.

The present schedule calls for church school sessions at 9:45 a.m. and worship services at 11 a.m. on Sunday morning.

The church school services will include classes for persons from four-year-olds through adults.

"Of course, everybody is welcome and invited to join us," Reverend Henn said.

Reverend Henn said that seminars ought to have taught courses in community development and city planning much earlier than they did.

He and his family moved to North San Mateo County from a church in northern Montana two years ago.

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

Our Redeemer Sets Services

Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church will celebrate Thanksgiving with a 10 a.m. worship service on Thursday, Nov. 26.

Three choirs of 60 voices will sing. The Carol Choir of young girls will be directed by Mrs. Irving Tweet, wife of the pastor. Senior choir of adult voices will be led by Robert Hall, while a Confirmation Choir of teenagers will be led by Pastor Tweet.

Bus Service

Is Scheduled

Westlake children attending Sunday morning religious classes at Temple Sherith Israel in San Francisco now may board a bus to attend the services. Temple officials have announced.

The bus will stop at either Southgate Avenue and Lake Merced Boulevard or on the north corner of Alemany Boulevard and Lake Merced. Further information may be obtained by calling the Temple office at FT 6-1720.

Rabbi to Talk On Kennedy

Rabbi Solomon Shore will speak "In the Memory of President Kennedy" at the Friday evening services at Temple B'nai Israel at 8:30 p.m.

Oneg Shabbath will follow the service. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Herbert Yaron and Mrs. Phil Frucht.

Bar Mitzvah services will be held for Nicholas Wellisch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wellisch of Daly City at Rodeph Shalom Saturday morning at 10 a.m. A Kiddush will follow the service.

CHURCHES JOIN

Thanksgiving Eve Services Planned

Union Thanksgiving Eve services sponsored by the Daly City Ministerial Association, will be held next Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church in Daly City.

The speaker will be the Rev. Clifford Droke, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church of Daly City, with other pastors participating in the leadership of the worship service.

Rev. Droke is one of the new pastors in the community, coming last July from the pastorate of the Methodist Community Church in Dixon, Calif.

He is a graduate of San Jose State College and the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley.

Rev. Herbert Tweedie, host pastor, said there will be a union choir to sing for the service.

The choir will be composed of people and choir members of participating churches with rehearsals planned tonight at 7:30 p.m. and at 7:15 p.m. before the Thanksgiving evening service. Delmar Severy will direct and Jack Harder will be organist.

The Rev. Kenneth Hansen, president of the sponsoring Daly City Ministerial Association, points out that such a union service is particularly appropriate at Thanksgiving, a national holiday.

Some of the local congregations will hold their own Thanksgiving services the next day. Rev. Tweedie said the public is invited to participate in the union service.

Sermon Topics Are Announced

"Lest We Forget" and "Solid Security in a Shaky World" will be the topics of the Rev. Walter E. Stram at the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services Sunday at the Peninsula Church of Christ meeting in Olivet Chapel in Colma.

The public is invited, Reverend Stram said.

Communion Planned at Broadmoor

Thanksgiving Season will be observed Sunday with communion being served at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church.

Pastor Herbert Tweedie will speak on the subject "The People of God" with the anthem by the choir being "O Saviour of the World."

Elders of the church session who will serve communion are Collins Orton, John Rued, Thomas House, Norris Hennings, Floyd Hicks, Harold Holbeck, Jack Gobel, Henry Yesselstein, James Hamilton, Rex Spruiell and Stuart Hoppin. The deacons of the church who are ladies will prepare the

THE "BEFORE NEED PLAN"

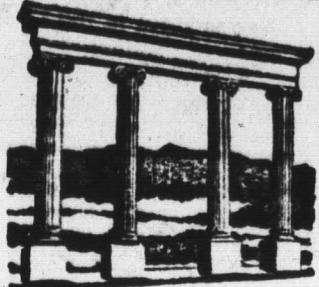

The ownership of Memorial property, purchased in advance of the actual need, does not shorten life by even a moment, but tends to prolong life through the sense of peace which comes to one's consciousness of a duty well done.

"You will never know what a satisfaction I felt in not having to make arrangements after my husband passed on. Your BEFORE NEED program should be more widely advertised."

The above was expressed voluntarily.

J. D. Altieri, Pioneer of Colma, Dies

Joseph D. Altieri, 77, of 100 Mateo Avenue, Colma, member of a pioneer Colma family and a Buick and Chevrolet dealer in the Daly City-Colma-South San Francisco area for 37 years, died November 3 at Mary's Help Hospital, San Francisco, from a heart condition.

Altieri, a native of Italy, came to Colma in 1908 after working with his late brother, Louis, in San Francisco as an independent cab operator for several years.

In Colma, he met and married Theresa Belli, member of an old-time Colma family that had resided there since the 1860s and owned many of the business enterprises in the area at that time. Mrs. Altieri's three sisters currently reside in Colma.

After Mrs. Altieri's mother died, Altieri maintained a car dealership under the name of M. Belli and Company, moving around from time to time in the three cities.

Many years ago, Belli Motor Company had the distinction of donating the first fire truck to the then Colma Volunteer Fire Department.

Altieri was a member of San

MYRTLE IRENE SMART

Funeral services were held Thursday for Myrtle Irene Smart of 608 Myrtle Avenue, South San Francisco. She died in Montara on November 9 at the age of 88.

A native of Wisconsin, she lived in South San Francisco for six and a half years.

Survivors include two sons, Glen M. Smart and Harold W. Lannon and a daughter, Barbara L. Wren.

Burial was in Gridley.

NIKOLAS DANNIS MARINAKES

Nikolas D. Marinakes of 217 Oliver Street, Daly City, died November 6 in San Francisco.

Mateo Lodge No. 1112, B.P.O. Elks.

Surviving members of his family, in addition to his wife, are his son, Joseph D. Altieri Jr. of San Francisco, six grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at Halsted and Company Chapel in San Francisco and in Holy Angels Catholic Church in Colma. Entombment was in Holy Cross Cemetery in Colma.

Judea Book Series Set

Rabbi Herbert Morris of Temple Judea will give the first in a series of four book reviews today at 10:45 a.m. in the fellowship room of the temple on Brotherhood Way.

Rabbi Morris has chosen Marjorie Duhan Adler's "A Sign Upon My Hand" as his first review. Coffee will be served at 10:15.

Tickets are available at the door or from Mrs. Ronald Cohn at 40 Lakeside Avenue.

Michael Stephenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stephenson, will celebrate his bar mitzvah at a special service at Temple Judea's sabbath evening services Friday beginning at 8:30 p.m.

A Correction

A story in last week's Post-Times incorrectly reported that Gladys Miller and Joyce Porteous will conduct Bible talks in the Sharp Park Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall on Paloma Avenue in Pacifica at 7 p.m. Sundays.

The story should have listed Gladys Porteous and Joyce Miller.

Another service is held Wednesdays at 7:45 p.m. rather than noon to 1:30 p.m. as reported in the article.

Making Progress

HOLDING a poster showing progress of a campaign to raise funds for the rebuilding of All Souls Catholic Church in South San Francisco is F. D. Minucciani, chairman of the building fund campaign. He's standing in front of a campaign billboard, donated by Foster & Kleiser, depicting the April 22 fire that destroyed the old church. (Post-Times Photo)

All Souls Fund Campaign Reaches Half Way Mark

The soul of South San Francisco has apparently been touched by the need to rebuild a landmark, the All Souls Catholic Church, which burned to its foundations last April.

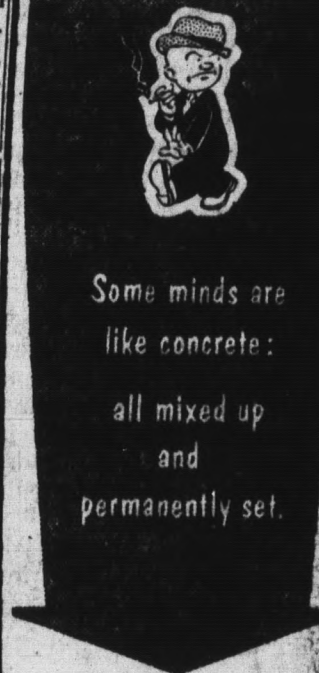

In addition, it is to house a convent, a social hall, a rectory, according to Minucciani, real estate man and general chairman of the $1 million drive to build a new church, says the campaign is already half way to that goal.

Celebrating the $500,000 mark, Minucciani revealed a new billboard at Linden and Baden Avenues as the newest tool in his drive. Donated by Foster & Kleiser, the billboard depicts the April 22 fire that destroyed the old All Souls Church at Miller and Walnut Avenues.

When the fund goal is reached Minucciani said, construction can begin on a new 900 seat chapel being designed by architect Roger Ranulo.

Because many of the parish members are of Italian extraction, and since many of the fund contributions are given as family memorials, All Souls Church is being designed as a new landmark. The structure is to be outlined

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

IT'S "LIGHTS, camera and action" for the Daly City Belle-Tones and the Community Chorus tomorrow when the two groups revisit the KPIX-TV studios in downtown San Francisco to tape the second annual Christmas television show featuring the localities.

Ever-busy Patti Stolz, director of the choral ensembles has been in conference many hours with KPIX Program Director Merle Ellis as the two have striven to create a program as varied and as enjoyable as possible. In addition to the six familiar choral selections that will be performed, there will be a delightful "Children's Choir" featuring soprano Jackie Madden and a dozen youngsters, the offspring of chorus members.

Sure to be exciting is the rendition of "O, Holy Night" by Mrs. Stolz and the assembled voices of the chorus.

More than 30 talented performers will lend their voices to the program and, though they make the music sound uncomplicated and effortless, the show will culminate many long practice sessions dating all the way back to early summer. No date has been announced for the tape to be shown so keep an eagle eye on the holiday television schedule. This is a part of the Christmas season observance that you won't want to miss!

Following hard on the heels of the television show will be the first "Winter Concert" to be staged by the chorus.

According to Mrs. Stolz, the concert will be sung in the Daly City War Memorial Building on December 11 at 8 p.m.

To be included in the program are "A Tribute to Romberg," "They Call the Wind Mariah," "Selections from H.M.S. Pinafore," "The Sound of Music," and "Song of Norway," and a lengthy medley of Christmas carols and songs.

Mrs. Stolz again requests that anyone who loves to sing give some consideration to joining the adult recreational group. Call PL 5-0850, extension 18, to make arrangements for an audition.

MADE YOUR plans for New Year's Eve?

Seriously, it is not a bit too early to begin considering ways and means of welcoming in the year of 1965. Ready and eager to help arrange a memorable holiday weekend for local residents are the members of Pacifica's Fifty-Plus Club.

Dynamic Edna Laurel Calhan, president of the group and organizer par excellence, has managed to secure grand stand seats for the Rose Parade in Pasadena on January 1, tours of the staging area where the floats may be viewed more closely, hotel rooms, dinner and dancing and a score of other activities all for an unbelievable cost of $48, transportation to and from included.

Interested? The trip is limited to only 38 persons so contact Mrs. Calhan, 355-2816, for reservations or more information.

WOULD YOU like to see your child appear on Hop, Skip and Dance, the Dick Ford dance program which is seen each Thursday and Saturday at 5:30 p.m. on KQED?

Well, according to Mrs. Louis M. Caserza, publicity director for the Westmoor Creative dance group, it is very possible if your cherub is enrolled in one of the five classes currently being offered by the group.

Pre-school and kindergarten age children are taught self expression and grace as they learn to listen to and respond physically to rhythms. Older children benefit in many ways from more advanced training in technique and ballet.

For more information about this specific program call Mrs. Caserza, PL 6-3396.

THE BEAUTY and serenity of the Orient will be imbued in the special program being presented tomorrow afternoon by the San Mateo County YWCA.

According to Virginia Church, county director of the "Y," oriental customs, arts and cuisine will be featured. Getting the afternoon off to a proper start will be the Chinese luncheon which will be served at noon.

Tiny Caroline Aguilar will perform a native dance from the Philippines and model typical attire from those South Sea Islands. Her mother, Mrs. Aurelia Aguilar will explain the dance and her costume. Also featured will be a demonstration of flower arranging by Myoko Womer, a native of Japan.

ENJOY PARLOR games and friendly company? If you do, bring your friends and your favorite game to the Holy Angel's Parish Hall this Friday evening and take part in the first "Games Night" to be sponsored by the Women's Guild to raise money for the annual fashion show.

According to Mrs. Ann Thels, publicity director for the guild, the evening will get under way at 8 p.m. with a donation of $1 requested from all attending.

Fashions and Show Business

fashion show held by the North Peninsula Circle of the Florence Crittenton Home last week. Demarest was fashion commentator at the event and all proceeds went to the Florence Crittenton Home.

Hazards Topics At Alta Loma

"Health Hazards of Juveniles" will be the subject under discussion when the Alta Loma P-TA meets tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the multi-use room of the school.

The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Jacob Karmar, chairman of health and welfare.

Speakers for the evening will be Dr. Irving Stern, local physician; Dr. Clifton Boyack, assistant superintendent of South San Francisco schools and Jackson, Trippe, curriculum consultant.

Specific items to be discussed in a film and afterwards by the speakers will be smoking, promiscuity, alcohol and venereal disease. Statistics show that these problems are occurring in increasing numbers in junior high schools.

Linda Mar Maps Plans for Swimming Pool To be Muddled

With the theme, "Books Need Homes and Homes Need Books," the Linda Mar P-TA will hold its second annual Children's Book Fair on Thursday, December 3, through Saturday, December 5, in the multi-use room of the school.

P-TA Events

The school administration has requested that no children attend the meeting. Mrs. J. L. Floro, P-TA president, has urged that all parents attend the meeting to become aware of the problems and see what can be done to avoid them. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Gerald Monkman and her hospitality committee.

The three-day event, open to the public, will feature thousands of new books for sale, both hardbound and paperback, priced from 25 cents up.

"The main purpose of the fair," according to P-TA president Mary Dawidczik, "is to encourage good reading habits for our children by making good books a part of their surroundings at home."

Mrs. Virginia Henkel, chairman, and Mrs. Jackie Hernandez, co-chairman, said any profits derived from the fair will be used to enlarge the library at Linda Mar School.

Refreshments will be served. Chairmen of the hostesses are Mrs. Bernice Monin and Mrs. Georgia Beach. Hours of the fair will be from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursday; 3 to 9 p.m. Friday, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

The Westmoor High School P-TA will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater to discuss "A Swimming Pool for Westmoor."

Guest panelists for the evening program will include representatives of the Daly City council, the recreation department, the Jefferson High School District Board of Trustees and the faculty.

The program will be of interest not only to parents of students at Westmoor, but also to the community.

Membership applications may be obtained at the school or at the meeting. Parents of the students have been urged to join.

Westview Will Hear Economist

Mrs. Louise Fletcher, home economist for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, will be a guest speaker at a meeting of the Westview School P-TA at 2 p.m. Monday in the school's multi-use room.

The topic of her talk will be: "Money-Wise Main Dishes."

Sht will use color slides in her talk. Pamphlets describing recipes Mrs. Fletcher discusses will be distributed.

The P-TA will conduct a business meeting before her talk. Coffee will be served at 2:30 p.m. and kindergarten children will present a program of songs at 2:45 p.m.

The P-TA will sponsor a fashion show Saturday, December 5. Information may be obtained from Mrs. Arnold Rowell at 355-3168.

It's Almost Game Time!

STOCKING UP on games to be used in a games night program sponsored by the Women's Guild of Holy Angels Church are Mrs. Alfred Padreddi, left, and Mrs. Raymond Nightingale, right, members of the guild. Helping the ladies along is King Norman Toys in the Westlake Shopping Center. The games program will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in the parish hall of the church.

Fellowship Lunch Set By Y Unit

Customs, cuisine and arts of Oriental flavor will dominate a YWCA World Fellowship luncheon and program from noon to 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Westlake Community Baptist Church.

A Chinese luncheon will be served by the Committee of Management of the San Mateo County YWCA, hosts for the event. Members of the Western Addition YWCA in San Francisco will present the program.

Kayoka Womer will demonstrate Japanese flower arranging; Aurelia Vgular will explain her island costume and four-year-old Carolyn Vagular will perform a dance of the Philippines.

The event will be held in conjunction with the observance of World Fellowship Week.

Reservations may be made by calling the Y office at PL 6-7370. Child care will be provided for a small fee. The luncheon is $2.

Yule Bazaar

Is Planned by Church Women

The Mater Dolorosa Women's Club claims it will have something for the person that has everything at the club's Christmas Bazaar to be held Saturday from 2 to 9 p.m. in the Church Hall at Forest View and Miller Avenues in South San Francisco.

Mrs. Sean McShane, chairman, said the sale will have many novel items.

Some of the articles to be sold will be smocked pillows, hanging flower baskets, tote bags and holiday decorations. The gifts were made by parish circles and the Altar Society.

There will also be a cake booth, surprise package booth, white elephant booth and a linen booth. Christmas cards and religious articles will also be available.

The snack bar will be staffed by members of the Teen Club where soft drinks, coffee, hot dogs and popcorn will be sold to bazaar shoppers.

Flapjack Feed Set by Women

A "Pancake Breakfast" will be held by the wives of members of the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 2064 in South San Francisco Sunday at the S.M.M. Morellos Hall from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The breakfast will be open to the public.

The next meeting of the wives will be held at the Morellos Hall on Monday at 8 p.m. Wives of Moose Lodge members and ladies whose husbands are not members are urged to attend, according to publicity chairman Mrs. Chester Leischner.

Further information may be obtained by phoning Mrs. Leischner at 583.2471.

Pacifica Plans

Bridge Lessons

A course of bridge lessons in the Goren system will be offered for all grades of bridge players by the Pacifica Recreation Department.

The course will open with a lesson on point counting and values in a hand conducive to bidding. Practice hands will be played to point up the values in points and distribution.

The first meeting will be held at Fairmont School Monday at 7:30 p.m. Instructor Elmer Harris said there will be a registration of fifty cents and a charge of fifty cents a night.

The class will acquaint the players with each other to arrange bridge games with the ultimate goal of establishing a duplicate bridge club for tournament play.

Corsage Art

To be Shown

Mrs. Doris Beaumont, of the Pacifica Branch of the American Fuchsia Society will demonstrate the art of making fuchsia corsages at a meeting Friday at 8 p.m., at the Sharp Park School in Pacifica.

A mystery plant, door prizes and a plant table of fuchsias will be featured. Refreshment will be served and the meeting is open to the public.

Psi Epsilon

Meeting Set

Mrs. Harlan Bostik of 141 Lake Drive, San Bruno, will hostess a meeting today of the Psi Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The cultural program "Poetry into Music" will be given by Mrs. Bostik who will present a guest speaker who will play a guitar and sing folk music.

The chapter is presently selling raffle tickets for a package of "Christmas Cheer" with proceeds to be donated to the new Mary's Help Hospital now under construction.

Y-Wives Slate

Thanksgiving

The YW-Wives of San Mateo County will hold a Thanksgiving Party open to the public tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. in the fellowship room of St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Daly City.

According to publicity chairman June St. Peter, the party will be a social hour with an exchange of ideas for the coming holidays on such things as decorating and cooking.

Refreshments will be served and child care is offered.

Guitar Lessons Are Scheduled

Two new six week sessions in folk guitar have begun at the Oddstad Park Recreation Center.
A beginners class is being held at 6:30 p.m. with an intermediate class scheduled at 7:30 p.m.
Classes are open to adults and teens. Registration fee is nine dollars for six lessons.
Vic Dobyns, who has been teaching guitar for the Pacifica
Park, Beach and Recreation Department, is the instructor.

MIRROR TAKEN
James Kale of 150 Coronado Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that a rear view mirror had been stolen from his auto.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Regular Dental Care.

Reduction of the consumption of sugar, proper toothbrushing can do much to reduce the prevalence of dental decay in children.
All dental decay, however, cannot be prevented. There is no substitute for regular visits to the dentist.

Your children should pay their first visit to the dentist between two and one-half and three years of age, shortly after all their primary teeth have erupted.

There are a number of advantages in early and frequent visits to the dentist.

- (1) tooth defects and dental disease can be detected and corrected in their early stages.
- (2) the dentist can observe and correct irregularities in the growth of teeth.
- (3) pain can be prevented.
- (4) the cost of care can be reduced.

TWO TICKETS to the EAST-WEST GAME

For the Week's Best Entry

Send in your entry in the FOOTBALL CONTEST

Sponsored by The Times and The Post

Entries available every Tuesday and Wednesday in The Times; every Wednesday in The Post

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. Select the winner of each game by placing an "X" in the box on the margin side of the team you think will win. If you predict the game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Ties" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given contestants who predict the tie.
2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the S. F. 49ers will make in Sunday's game in the box provided. (This estimate will only be used in case of ties between two contestants.)
3. Clip and mail the entry blank to:

FOOTBALL CONTEST

The Post

30 Park Plaza Drive

Daly City, Calif.

4. Entries must be postmarked prior to midnight Thursday of this week or delivered to The Times prior to midnight Thursday of this week. The Times is not responsible for entries lost, delayed or destroyed or which fail to reach The Times or The Post by 10:00 A.M. on Saturday.
5. To receive the cash prize the winner must pick all 15 games correctly. If the entry does not pick all games right, then the winner will receive 2 tickets to the Shrine East-West Game, on January 2. The previous week's contest cash prize will be added to the next week's contest. If it is not distributed to a winner, this cash prize will be given to the winner of the final week's contest. The final week's winner will not need to guess all 15 games to win the prize.
6. A bonus of $30 will be given to each cash prize winner (not Big Game ticket winners) who is a home-delivered subscriber to The San Mateo Times or The Post. To qualify for his bonus, either of the boxes at the bottom of the entry blank must be checked. In the event two or more subscribers divide the contest cash prize, the bonus prize will be divided in the same manner.
7. Number of entries from one household is limited to fifteen (15) on official entry blanks but only one (1) exact sized facsimile of the official entry blank may be submitted. Submission of more than one facsimile in any one week will render all facsimiles submitted by that contestant void.

THANKSGIVING DAY 1964

LET US GIVE THANKS FOR THE BOUNTY OF THIS GREAT LAND

By NELL NORTON

THANKSGIVING DINNER MENU

Tomato Aspic With Cheese Crackers
Turkey Dressing Gravy Cranberry Sauce
Mashed Potatoes Gourmet Onions
Carrots Au Gratin Peas With Almonds

THANKSGIVING DAY is just a week away and it's not one bit too early to start thinking about what we'll serve, how we'll prepare it and how much food will be needed to feed that happy gathering of friends and relatives.

On that first Thanksgiving, the menu was limited by the harvest and exactly what the menfolk brought home from their hunting trip. So there was no lettuce or green peas or tomato aspic to grace the first tables. Therefore, we can be most grateful not only for the quantity but the variety of foods from which we are able to choose our meals.

When the Pilgrim hunter lined up the wild turkey in his sights, he didn't have any choice in the size or sex of the bird he shot. He just shot first and asked questions later. Thus, one can imagine that Priscilla was much distressed to see John coming over the hill with a seven-pound Tom in hand when what she had in mind was a plump 15-pound hen.

In this plentiful era, not only may we select the sex and weight of our turkey, we can also buy the pre-stuffed, ready-to-cook variety. Not to mention the turkey rolls that can be used in a smaller household where a whole turkey would create left-overs for a week.

No matter what size or shape of turkey you select, that gathering of family and friends around the table will be a happy and hungry group. So let's get down to the business of feeding them.

TOMATO ASPIC

2 pkgs. unflavored gelatin
¾ cup water
1 can tomato juice (No. 2-size)
1 can tomato sauce
1 bay leaf
pinch salt
1 tbsp. sugar
1 tsp. lemon juice
2 tbsps. grated onion

Combine tomato juice, sauce, bayleaf, salt, sugar, lemon juice and grated onion in a sauce pan. Heat to the boiling point. Remove bay leaf. During this time, pour the gelatin into the three-fourths cup water and allow to stand for 5 minutes.

When the tomato mixture reaches the boiling stage, blend in the gelatin mixture and pour into an oblong pan to set. When the mixture begins to set, fold in one avocado, diced, and 12 stuffed olives, sliced. Chill this salad overnight.

When ready to serve, cut into any shapes you like squares, triangles, circles or whatever suits your fancy and serve on lettuce with a dollop of mayonnaise on top, crowned with a slice of stuffed olive. Add crisp cheese crackers to the side of the salad dish.

When the salad dishes are cleared away, it's time to bring on the star of the show—the turkey. As we all know, any star has to be dressed properly and this basic dressing is most proper.

DRESSING

4 cups bread crumbs (be sure to use stale bread)
½ cup margarine
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. poultry seasonings
½ cup celery
¼ cup onion
dash of pepper

Cut the crusts from the two-day-old bread and crumble into small pieces. Sauté the onion and celery in the butter and pour into the bread. Add seasonings. If the dressing seems a little dry, add some hot water. Taste and re-season if you like it more highly seasoned. A good rule in making your dressing or stuffing is to allow a cup of stuffing to a pound of turkey. If you have any extra, you can bake it in a side dish for there is never too much stuffing.

NEXT WE COME to the vegetables. Peas and carrots go together nicely don't you agree? And they do very nicely when served apart too, as you will see in these interesting recipes.

CARROTS AU GRATIN

2 cups carrots, sliced thin
¼ cup minced onions cup water

1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour
1½ cups milk
1-3 cup grated cheddar cheese
1 tbs. chopped parsley
½ cup corn flake crumbs
3 tbs. butter

Simmer carrots and onions in water seasoned with salt and pepper until tender. Drain. Melt butter, stir in flour; add milk gradually, stirring constantly.

Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Stir in cheese and parsley. Add carrots. Mix well.

Pour into greased one-quart casserole. Sprinkle corn flake crumbs that have been combined with melted butter over the top of casserole. Bake in 375-degree oven about 20 minutes. Makes four servings.

PEAS AND ALMONDS

2 pkgs. frozen peas (or use canned peas if you prefer)
½ cup toasted almonds, sliced
Cook the peas, drain. Add salt, pepper and butter. Mix in toasted almonds.

Mashed potatoes are as much a part of Thanksgiving dinner in most homes as the turkey. To add a gourmet touch, after mashing in the usual way add two tablespoons of sour cream and some chopped chives.

GOURMET ONIONS

3 tbs. butter
½ tsp. sugar
¼ tsp. salt
1-8 tsp. pepper
¼ cup sherry
10 to 12 small onions, peeled, cooked and drained
¼ cup shredded Parmesan cheese

Melt butter in saucepan. Stir in sugar, salt, pepper and sherry. Add cooked onions and heat quickly—about five minutes, stirring now and then. Turn into serving dish and sprinkle with cheese.

I HOPE YOU have a wonderful Thanksgiving day, surrounded by those you love. And don't think about your diet, not this day or any day until this happy season is past. Then in January, we'll all start again.

BRIGHT LIGHTS

by Lloyd Johnson

Phil Lehr's Lighting Fixtures Not for Sale

THOSE VICTORIAN LIGHTING FIXTURES at Phil Lehr's Steakery were designed and made especially for Lehr. Many customers offer to buy them for their homes. . . . Jon Hendricks, with fine backing by the Gildo Mahonox Trio, is drawing jazz fans to Basin Street West. Hendricks, with his unique styling, is one of the great jazz singers of the day. . . . Mike Guzman presides over the Blue Peacock piano bar, these evenings. After a delightful dinner, relax to request tunes and let the rain fall where it may. . . . Club Shore Vu's "All you can eat" spread is well named—"King's Banquet." Lunches, $1; dinners, $1.50. Cocktails served from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. . . . Taste tip at Pancho's Mexican Cafe: Alondiga soup (choice bits of beef, vegetables, with special herbs and spices added). Great for these cool evenings.

Phil Lehr

Great for these cool evenings.

WONDER IF BRUNO SCATENA has given up the idea of introducing a Joe's of Westlake-type restaurant in Las Vegas. They sure could use one—and Mr. Scatena knows the "recipe." . . . The checkered table cloths and candlelight wine bottles at Nick Finocchio's New Tivoli always fascinate me. This is an enchanting backdrop to old San Francisco North Beach. Wonderful Italian food! . . . Roger Smith, the "77 Sunset Strip" man, keeps the hungry "open" and doing a stand up biz. . . . The huge Hyatt House neon suggests a family Thanksgiving dinner reservation right now—and so do I. . . . Wayne Newton proving a box office boom for the Fairmont Hotel Venetian Room singer will be in the Sinatra $$$ bracket. . . . Dined at the Franciscan restaurant on Fisherman's Wharf, Tuesday p.m., and was Bruno Scatena pleased to see so many folks from the Peninsula doing likewise. One of the most selective sea food menus in the West is featured here. . . . Phil Rauscher, general manager of the International Inn restaurant, counting the hours until he can relax in the South Shore sector of Lake Tahoe. Have a "snowball," Phil. There's plenty up there.

Phil Rauscher

Me-n-Ed's "Friday Pizza Special" is a dandy! You'll want to stock up the deep freeze with this one. Consists of mushrooms, olive and anchovy, prepared in Me-n-Ed's Fire Brick Oven. . . . After a delightful dinner in the St. Francis Hotel Cafe Medallion Room, try Medallion Coffee (spiced and iced along with Kalua and Cognac).

BOB Brooks, vice president of Barney's Casino, Lake Tahoe, is tending the "store while the boss, Barney O'Malia and his lovely wife enjoy a short stay in Honolulu. Mr. Brooks, recognized as one of the best operators in the business, has a colorful casino background—which extends from Alaska to Mexico. . . . The Golden Casino, in Reno, is now featuring the new Second Edition of Barry Ashton's charming French musical, "Les Femmes de Paris," in the 500-seat Mardi Gras Theater-Restaurant. Two new specialty acts are showcased within the production. . . . The Kings IV currently appearing at the Reno Riverside Hotel's Showboat Lounge through December 2. The hotel's entertainment program is rounded out by the trumpet of Clyde McCoy and the singing trio, "Audie and the Forget Me Nots."

Bob Brooks

Topping the entertainment program at Harrah's Reno Show Lounge are Gaylord and Holiday and The Characters. Also on the program: Big Tiny Little and The Hi-Hopes. Phil Harris tops Harrah's Tahoe show in the beautiful South Shore Room.

MR. N. Y. "NEW YORK" PALMER, general manager of Emerson Murfee's "restaurant acres," Villa Chartier and the Lanai, back from a Fresno "turkey hunt," during which he selected many fine birds for the big Thanksgiving Day feast which has been a tradition at the Villa Chartier for many years. If you're planning a drum stick session here, make reservations right now. 341-3456 is the lucky number. . . . Holiday entertainment will be well under control at the Surf House with Lloyd Fox at the organ, Wednesday through Saturday. . . . You're in for a double treat at Nick Gust's Turtle restaurant, down Pacifica way, when you order the "Turf and Surf" (consists of red meat and seafood). Weekend dancing is also on the agenda. . . . Nick's, a show place of the coast side, has long been acclaimed the banquet headquarters for special parties and meetings—and this holiday season will be no exception. . . . Salami, pastrami and corned beef fanciers are in their glory when shopping at Third Avenue Brothers. You'll find and enjoy. . . .

PEARL BAILEY
Safari Room—Tonight

If you don't see smiling Keith Williamson in or about his 1001 California Drive Chicken and Steak House during a dinner visit here, it's probably because he's tending to a catering job—which pop up so frequently this time of the year.

The ever-lovin' Pearl Bailey took over the "Surprise Pink" spot at Paul Catalana's Safari Room in San Jose, for a 10-day engagement. A long-time Las Vegas favorite, Pearl should pack the Safari Room to a new all-time record.

With crab season back in style, Vince's is the seafood headquarters, whether you eat in or take the food out. Italian dinners are also a house specialty. Be sure and try the hot hors d'oeuvres during cocktail hour.

Little things that count in a big way: Spiced beets and olives as served at the Southern restaurant in Redwood City, along with the full course dinners.

Lew Lehr says so many women are wearing wigs nowadays that it's impossible to tell which girl has the phony!

Cocktails Also Served at Kings Table

Understand the Redwood City Kings Table was one of the first to preem the "All you can eat" lunch and dinner package. Select from over 40 different food items. No matter how crowded the place may be, everything runs as smoothly as a politician's speech. Before and after dinner cocktails also served.

What's this I hear about Enrico Romano, Pacifica restaurateur, about to purchase a race horse? Better keep racing in the "hot rod" bracket. "King," they don't have two dollar windows at the Vallejo Speedway.

Mario Figueroa, likeable maitre d' at Luz Garcia's Sinaloa, is doing double duty, these days. Spends his evenings at the cantina and days at Bay Meadows, where he acts as a jockey's agent. New show due at the Sinaloa on November 16. Understand it will feature one of the greatest dance teams on the West Coast, Soler and Lorca.

Ideal Christmas gift for any household: "Dinner at Omar Khayyam's" written by Kitchen Expert George Mardikian. This is a book of home cooking for America, based on the food of the near East, and contains authentic recipes from the old world.

Brentwood Lodge reminds me of the story book Baronial days, with its plush interior and food fit for a king. Too bad Henry VIII isn't around to enjoy the prime rib, here.

Chamber Change

DAVID FRIEDENBERG, receives the gavel symbolizing the presidency of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce from Daly City Mayor Michael DeBernardi, who substituted for the ailing outgoing president Herb Sharpe. Friedenbergs was installed Saturday at the chamber's installation and past presidents night at the Olympic Club. Plaques were presented to directors who resigned during the past year. They were Parkes Harris, Walt McRae and Hugh Smith. DeBernardi gave a short speech the urgency for the city council and chamber to work together. Bernard "Bud" Lycett was master of ceremonies.

BETTER BUSINESS

Bureau Protests Agencies' Growth

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

PROTECTION of the consumer has become the special concern of both the state and federal government. In September of 1959, Gov. Edmund Brown asked the legislature to create the office of consumer counsel.

Former economist, Helen Ewing Nelson, became California's first consumer counsel. The job, until recently, was the only one of its kind in the country.

The government today is spending millions of dollars to protect the consumer. President Johnson, in a special message to Congress, recommended a 10-point program of legislation and federal action aimed at safeguarding consumers in their spending for products and services.

Mrs. Esther Peterson was appointed his special assistant on consumer interests.

Thirty-three federal departments and agencies perform activities affecting consumer interests. The United States Department of Agriculture has issued the free, pocket-size Consumer Quick Credit Guide containing pertinent information concerning shopping or buying goods on time.

Analysis of a government report showed that 118 different divisions are working directly to protect and advance consumer interests.

JEREMIAH P. CADIGAN
Named Manager

Wells Fargo Ups Cadigan

James K. Dobey, vice president in charge of the Peninsula division of Wells Fargo Bank, has announced the promotion of Jeremiah P. Cadigan to manager of the bank's San Bruno office.

Cadigan, a Daly City resident who has been assistant manager of the branch for the past six years, is replacing Thomas K. McNulty, who will retire December 31.

Cadigan, who joined Wells Fargo in 1939, also served with branches in San Francisco, Redwood City, San Mateo and Santa Clara. He was at the San Bruno office from 1948 to 1955.

He is a native San Franciscan, and attended the University of San Francisco. Cadigan and his wife, Dolores, are parents of seven children, ranging in age from six months to 23 years old. They reside at 73 Eastwood Avenue in Daly City, where he is a member of the boards of directors of the San Bruno Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce.

October Is Low Month In Building

The month of October was the slowest of the year for construction in Daly City, according to figures released by the Daly City Building Inspector's office.

A total of 51 permits for construction estimated to cost $578,937 were issued. This compares with last year's October total of 118 permits for construction estimated to cost $626,602.

Issuance of the 51 permits brought the year's total to 79 and an estimated valuation of $10,698,732.

Last year at this time, 85 permits had been issued for construction estimated to cost $11,906,060.

Included in last month's total were two permits for apartment houses expected to cost $104,270, five new homes, $87,500, and a new commercial establishment expected to cost $238,000.

The main difference in the totals between last month and October of last year were in alterations to homes.

Last month, 34 permits for alterations to homes were issued. Last year in October, 76 permits for alterations were issued.

Building inspector officials suggested that the election campaign might have cut down the building activity.

Daniel DeJesus, 96 Montebello Drive, to add bathroom, recreation room and sun deck.
Joseph Yohanan, 159 Santa Paula Avenue, to extend dining room.
Robert Brown, 148 Brooklawn Drive, to build bedroom and bath.
Bernard Doms, 217 Woodrow Street, to install skylight.
L. E. Walt, 9 Morningside Drive, to add doors and windows.
Joseph Knott, 3223 San Jose Avenue, to install new cabinets.

er interests with 6,500 full time federal employees and an annual expenditure of $953 million. ONE OF THE severest criticisms of Mrs. Nelson is that she is duplicating, at a cost to the taxpayers of over $140,000, what other organizations such as the Better Business Bureau, are already doing and have been doing for years.

Dozens of propositions are presently pending for putting federal and state governments further into the field of regulation and protection of the consumer.

Rep. Katherine May of Washington, alarmed at the danger of the consumers' freedom of choice becoming too restricted through overprotection of both state and federal government, says:

"... this housewife went to Congress and as a result, has become more concerned than ever about the consumers. But my concern is what government may be doing to them while it's doing something for them!"

"All the government officials and all the government laws in the world are as nothing compared to the impact Mrs. America has on Mr. Manufacturer and Mr. Storekeeper when she makes up her mind to buy one brand over another."

"And when she makes that decision, no power on earth can save the businessman or the producer of the product who made the mistake of displeasing her."

"She has done and is doing a wonderful job in needing, inspiring and in regulating American business enterprise."

"And to reward her, I want to protect her. Not with more government regulations and laws. I want to protect her freedom of choice."

"False labeling, misrepresentation, commercial fraud, and corporate bureaucracy are evil and wrong under any circumstance. Wherever these evils, abuses and malpractices exist, we must move to meet them."

"If businessmen, as integral factors in our free society today, do not develop facilities for self-policing and for protecting the public, then they are traitors to the voluntary cause they espouse because they deliberately invite government regulation."

"And, on the other hand, those who maintain that government intervention is the sole approach for public protection are traitors to the basic tenet on which our government is formed — personal liberty and free choice."

"LASTLY, I call upon businessmen to continue their efforts to build the strength of private enterprise against the threats of more centralized government controls."

"Those who represent your interests in Congress and state legislatures have been doing an outstanding job, but they can't do it alone."

"Every time business anywhere fails to exercise voluntary discretion, the rug is pulled out from under the feet of those who are charged with the responsibility of protecting your best interests in the areas where laws are made."

"Every abuse of the business trust creates a clamor for government action. On the other hand, as business becomes ever more vigorous in self-regulation, ever more vigorous in insistence on truth in advertising and truth in labeling, then the threat of government intervention fades further away."

Disapproval Of Home Bid Is Advised

Pacific's Park and Beach and Recreation Commission has decided to recommend to the city council that the council deny a Henry Doelger Builder's request to build two homes on a part of the city's green belt.

The firm wants to reacquire two lots on Horizon Way for additional houses, explained Eldred Lokker, recreation director.

Among other action, the commission set next Wednesday as the date for an old-time town meeting to study future development in Vallejo.

Lokker said that all residents are invited to discuss the area's future at the meeting. It will be held at Vallejo School.

The commission also decided to recommend to the city council that a municipal-school district agreement be reached for the seeding of school grounds.

Lokker said this is not now covered in other city-school mutual contracts.

Lokker also announced that Mrs. Bernice Brydson-Jack of Gypsy Hill Road has been named Volunteer of the Month. She was active in a joint project of the Pacific Art Guild and the community last August and is still active in the recreation department's folk dance and square dance programs.

Coast Yule Show Is Set

The Seventh Annual Christmas Do-It-Yourself Show, sponsored by the Pacific Park, Beach and Recreation Department, has been scheduled for December 5-6 at the Sharp Park School multi-use room.

The Saturday and Sunday show will feature many new Christmas decoration and gift ideas, special demonstrations, refreshments and a few added surprises.

Purpose of the show is to give individuals and organizations in the community an opportunity to display their talents in a community event.

The show also will give the public an opportunity to see this talent in action and to take home some new ideas to make the holiday season a more creative and personal one.

Anyone interested in displaying his Christmas ideas must have them turned into the Pacific department by Friday, December 4.

More information may be obtained by calling the Recreation Department at 355-4151.

The sun, moon and tide tables show the hours of the day, the times of the sun, moon and tide being consecutively from 01:00 (1 p.m.) to 24:00 (midnight) in 15 minute intervals. The tide tables using 12 hours twice, followed by a.m. or p.m. Noon is 12:00, 1 p.m. is 1:00. This information is followed by the Army, Navy and all government tide tables and almanacs.

Times and heights of tides at San Mateo Bridge, California, are prepared by the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, Santa Cruz, California.
Half Moon Bay tide is 10 minutes earlier.

PACIFIC STANDARD TIME

Nov. 17 - 12:00
NOTE: In the above tabulation of the times of the sun, moon and tide the order of the occurrence commencing with the day and the successive times as they occur. On some days two or three times of the sun, moon and tide occurring in the following morning.

At times of the sun, moon and tide
the level of the Coast Survey charts surrounding the tide tables are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or chart (U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey).
